

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

Google's mission is to organize the world's information and to make it universally accessible and useful. Google Book Search helps readers discover the world's books while helping authors and publishers reach new audiences. ## PREFACE.

Someone has aptly said that, "Military glory consists in getting killed on the field of battle and then having your name misspelled in the newspapers." It is for the benefit of young men who are seeking just such glory that this little volume has been prepared. The author (or compiler, for this is but little more than a compilation of Army Regulations, etc.) has striven to give the very latest orders and laws pertaining to the examination and appointment of candidates to the Army as second lieutenants. In a few original chapters he has assumed the fatherly rôle, and ventures words of advice and offers bits of information which it is hoped will be of benefit to the ambitious person who reads this volume and pursues his efforts to obtain a second lieutenancy in the best army in the world.

CREDITS DUE.

In compiling this little work the following have been heavily drawn from:

United States Army Regulations.

The Official Army Register.

General Orders from the Adjutant-General's Office.

Enlistment Papers, Recruiting Circular, etc.

The Army Paymaster's Manual.

The Official Register of Officers and Cadets of the United States Military Academy, West Point, New York, June 30, 1900, published by order of Colonel Mills, Superintendent of the Academy, by First Lieutenant W. C. Rivers, First Cavalry, Adjutant U. S. M. A. Many whole paragraphs were appropriated from this little booklet, and nearly all of the information in Chapter II. and Appendix A was obtained from it.

CHAPTER I. INTRODUCTORY.

"For gold the merchant plows the main,
The farmer plows the manor;
But glory is the soldier's prize,
The soldier's wealth is honor."—Burns.

. An Army officer has no sinecure. His life is not made up of full-dress balls, parades, revelry, gold-laced uniforms and big pay—the popular civilian idea of his daily pastime. The exercise of command is the least onerous of his numerous duties. A young officer frequently finds himself recorder or member of a board of survey, judge-advocate or member of a general court-martial, acting as counsel for a military prisoner; he must take his turn as officer of the guard or officer of the day, attend numerous roll-calls, drills and exercises; he must keep himself "brushed up" on professional subjects, prepare essays, superintend or actually perform the "paper work" of the company to which he belongs, conduct school for the non-commissioned officers, and give his personal attention to divers other duties.

The youth with intentions to enter the service for the emoluments only had better change his mind and look up a more lucrative position. There are very few officers who save from their pay anything worth mentioning. Few officers by the time they reach the age for retirement have saved sufficient to buy themselves a comfortable home. True, the position is one that lasts during good behavior, health, and until reaching the age for retirement, and the pay is continually increasing. The demands incident to increased rank readily consume the augmentation of the pay voucher.

The chances for further promotion of officers just coming in as second lieutenants are fairly good. Under present conditions there will be no such rapid promotion as the past two years have given, but there are reasons to believe that advancement will be more rapid than it was previous to the Spanish-American War. It took from six to eight years to reach a first lieutenancy at that time. With an army the size that our present national policy will require, together with the hardships of tropical service, causing many retirements for physical disability, the probabilities are that a second lieutenant will require no longer than three or four years to reach the next higher grade.

There are three ways by which an aspirant may obtain a commission as second lieutenant in the United States Army, viz.: First—By graduating from the Military Academy at West Point, New York. Second—Enlisting and taking the competitive examination from the ranks. Third—From civil life.

The Cadet at the National Military Academy always has gentlemanly treatment, but the duties are extremely hard; the discipline is just, but severe; the course of study is very difficult for the time allotted to cover it; but the persevering young man who passes from one class to the next higher till he finally graduates, usually joins his regiment an excellent officer. He does not, as a matter of fact, know it all when he joins, for a regular regiment differs as much from the corps of Cadets as a full-dress parade does from field service. He has the "cue," however, and soon catches on to the practical workings of the Army. A graduate of the Academy who is a "soldier born" undoubtedly has an advantage over the officer who enters the Army by one of the other two roads.

Many excellent officers of our service have secured their commissions from the ranks. It is a good school, and no officer who has carried a musket as an enlisted man is any the worse for it. There is nothing degrading or menial about the duties of a soldier. He is not required to shine shoes or do similar service for the officers. When he does such service, he does it voluntarily, and receives extra pay for it from the officer for whom the work is done. Of course he helps to do cooking and the "police" duties about the camp or barracks, and he cleans his own equipment and makes his own bed, but this training serves him well once that he becomes an officer.

The Army has many officers who secured appointment from civil life, a great number of them having been volunteer officers during the Civil War. For fidelity, patriotism and intelligent service, no country could ask more than that rendered by this class of the officers of our Regular Army.

An effort has been made in the following pages to give the latest laws and regulations governing the applications, examinations and appointment of candidates for commissions in the Army, together with other information which will probably be found useful by the aspirant.

CHAPTER II.

APPOINTMENTS FROM GRADUATES OF THE UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY.

APPOINTMENT AND ADMISSION OF CADETS TO THE UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY.—QUALIFICATIONS.—CHARACTER OF ACADEMICAL EXAMINATION.—ACADEMIC DUTIES.—MILITARY INSTRUCTION.—PAY OF CADETS.—ASSIGNMENT TO CORPS AFTER GRADUATION.—NOTES.

"I give it as my fixed opinion that, but for our graduated cadets, the war between the United States and Mexico might, and probably would, have lasted for four or five years, with, in its first half, more defeats than victories falling to our share; whereas, in less than two campaigns, we conquered a great country and a peace, without the loss of a single battle or skirmish."—Winfield Scott.

APPOINTMENT AND ADMISSION OF CADETS TO THE UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY.

Each Congressional District and Territory—also the District of Columbia—is entitled to have one Cadet at the Academy. Each State is also entitled to have two Cadets at the Academy, from the State at large. Thirty are appointed from the United States at large. The appointments (except those from the United States at large and from the District of Columbia) are made by the Secretary of War at the request of the Senator, Representative, or Delegate, in Congress; and the person appointed must be an actual resident of the State or District or Territory from which the appointment is made. The appointments from the United States at large and from the District of Columbia are specially conferred by the President.

Applications can be made at any time, by letter to the Secretary of War, to have the name of the applicant placed upon the register that it may be furnished to the proper Senator, Representative, or Delegate, when a vacancy occurs. The application must exhibit the full name, date of birth, and permanent abode of the applicant, with the number of the Congressional District in which his residence is situated.

Appointments are required by law to be made one year in advance of the date of admission, except in cases where, by reason of death or other cause, a vacancy occurs which cannot be provided for by such appointment in advance. These vacancies are filled in time for the next examination.

For each candidate appointed there may be nominated a legally qualified second candidate, to be designated the alternate. The alternate will also receive from the War Department a letter of appointment, and will be examined with the regular appointee, and if duly qualified, will be admitted to the Academy in the event of the failure of the principal to pass the prescribed preliminary examination. The alternate will not be allowed to defer his reporting until the result of the examination of the regular appointee is known, but must report at the time designated by his letter of appointment. The alternate, like the nominee, should be designated as nearly one year in advance of date of admission as possible.

Candidates selected by the War Department will be instructed to appear for mental and physical examination before boards of Army officers to be convened at such places as the War Department may select, on the first day of March annually (except when that day falls on Sunday, in which case the examination will commence on the following Tuesday). The candidates who pass successfully will be admitted to the Academy the following June.

12      A Manual for Aspirants for Commissions

No candidate shall be examined at any other time, unless prevented from presenting himself by sickness, or some other unavoidable cause, in which case he shall be examined during the last week in August.

Immediately after reporting to the Superintendent for admission, and before receiving his warrant of appointment, the candidate will be required to sign an engagement for service in the following form, in the presence of the Superintendent or some officer designated by him:

I, _____, of the State of (or Territory of) _____, aged — years, _____ months, do hereby engage (with the consent of my parent or guardian) that, from the date of my admission as a Cadet of the United States Military Academy, I will serve in the Army of the United States for eight years, unless sooner discharged by competent authority.

In the presence of _____

The candidate is then required to take and subscribe an oath or affirmation in the following form:

I, _____, do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and will bear true allegiance to the National Government; that I will maintain and defend the sovereignty of the United States, paramount to any and all allegiance, sovereignty, or fealty I may owe to any State or country whatsoever; and that I will at all times obey the legal orders of my superior officers, and the rules and articles governing the armies of the United States.

Sworn and subscribed at _____, this _____ day of _____, nineteen hundred and _____, before me.

QUALIFICATIONS.

Candidates are eligible for admission from the day they are seventeen, until the day they become twenty-two years of age, on which latter day they are not eligible.

No candidate will be admitted who is deformed, or afflicted with any form of disease or infirmity which would render him unfit for the military service, or who has at the time of presenting himself any disorder of an infectious or immoral character. Accepted candidates, if between seventeen and eighteen years of age, should not fall below five feet and three inches in height and one hundred pounds in weight; if over nineteen, five feet and four inches in height and one hundred and ten pounds in weight. Candidates must be unmarried.

"A sound body and constitution, suitable preparation, good natural capacity, an aptitude for study, industrious habits, perseverance, an obedient and orderly disposition, and a correct moral deportment are such essential qualifications that candidates knowingly deficient in any of these respects should not subject themselves and their friends to the chances of future mortification and disappointment, by accepting appointments at the Academy and entering upon a career which they cannot successfully pursue."

CHARACTER OF ACADEMICAL EXAMINATION.

Every applicant who has passed satisfactorily the physical examination will be examined in a thorough manner in the following subjects:

1. Reading. In reading candidates must be able to read understandingly, with proper accent and emphasis.
2. Writing and Orthography. In writing and orthography they must be able, from dictation, to write sentences from standard pieces of English literature, both prose and poetry, sufficient in number to test their qualifications both in handwriting and orthography. They must also be able to write and spell correctly from dictation a certain number of standard test words.

14 A Manual for Aspirants for Commissions

3. Arithmetic.

4. English Grammar.

5. Geography, particularly of our own country.

6. History. So much of the history of the United States as is contained in ordinary school histories.

ACADEMIC DUTIES.

The Cadets are arranged in four distinct classes, corresponding with the four years' study. The Cadets employed on the first year's course constitute the Fourth Class; those on the second year's course the Third Class; those on the third year's course the Second Class; and those on the fourth year's course the First Class.

The academic year commences on the 1st of July. On or before that date the result of the examination held in the preceding month is announced and Cadets are advanced from one class to another. At no other time shall a Cadet be advanced from one class to another, unless prevented by sickness or authorized absence from attending at the aforesaid examination; but in no case shall a Cadet be advanced from one class to another without having passed a satisfactory examination by the Academic Board.

The academic duties and exercises commence on the first of September and continue until the first of June. Examinations of the several classes are held in January and June, and, at the former, such of the new Cadets as are found proficient in studies and have been correct in conduct are given the particular standing in their class to which their merits entitle them. After the examination, Cadets found deficient in conduct or studies are discharged from the Academy, unless the Academic Board for special reasons in each case should otherwise recommend. Similar examinations are held every January and June during the four years comprising the course of studies.

These examinations are very thorough and require from the Cadets a close and persevering attention to study without evasion or slighting of any part of the course, as no relaxation of any kind can be made by the examiners.

The Academy has the following departments: Tactics, Civil and Military Engineering, Natural and Experimental Philosophy, Mathematics, Chemistry, Mineralogy and Geology, Drawing, Modern Languages, Law and History, Practical Military Engineering, Military Signaling and Telegraphy, Ordnance and Gunnery. The Academy also has a Chaplain, Master of the Sword, and Teacher of Music.

MILITARY INSTRUCTION.

For instruction in Infantry Tactics and in military police and discipline, the Cadets are organized into a battalion of four companies under the Commandant of Cadets, each company being commanded by an officer of the Army. The officers and non-commissioned officers are selected from the Cadets who have been most studious, soldier-like in the performance of their duties, and most exemplary in their general deportment. In general, the captains and lieutenants are taken from the first class, the sergeants from the second class, and the corporals from the third class.

From the termination of the examination in June to the end of August, the Cadets live in camp, engaged only in military duties and exercises and receiving practical military instruction.

PAY OF CADETS.

The pay of a Cadet is $540 per year, to commence with his admission to the Academy. No Cadet is permitted to receive money or any other supplies from his parents, or from any person whomsoever, without the sanction of the Superintendent.

There being no provision whatever for the payment of the traveling expenses of either accepted or rejected candidates for admission, no candidate should fail to provide himself in advance with the means of returning to his home in case of rejection before either of the Examining Boards, as he may otherwise be put to considerable trouble, inconvenience, and even suffering on account of his destitute condition. After defraying their expenses while there, all balances due to candidates who fail to pass the entrance examination are promptly refunded. If admitted, the money brought by him to meet such a contingency can be deposited with the Treasurer of the Academy on account of his equipment as a Cadet, or returned to his friends.

ASSIGNMENT TO CORPS AFTER GRADUATION.

The following provision of an act of Congress approved May 17, 1886, regulates the promotion of graduates of the United States Military Academy:

“That when any cadet of the United States Military Academy has gone through all the classes and received a regular diploma from the academic staff, he may be promoted and commissioned as a second lieutenant in any arm or corps of the Army in which there may be a vacancy and the duties of which he may be judged competent to perform; and in case there shall not at the time be a vacancy in such arm or corps, he may, at the direction of the President, be promoted and commissioned in it as an additional second lieutenant, with the usual pay and allowances of a second lieutenant, until a vacancy shall happen."

NOTES.

The use of tobacco in any form by Cadets is prohibited.

Cadets are required to wear the prescribed uniform. All articles of their uniform are of a designated pattern, and are sold to Cadets at West Point at regulated prices.

Except in extreme cases, Cadets are allowed but one leave of absence during the four years' course; as a rule the leave is granted at the end of the first two years' course of study.

A candidate who failed to pass the entrance examinations at West Point can be re-appointed to fill the vacancy caused by his failure.

The Military Academy was created by an act of Congress, approved March 16, 1802. It was formally opened July 4, 1802, with ten Cadets present.

There are about 1,885 living graduates of the Academy, of which number 335 are in civil life and the remainder in the Army, either on the active or retired lists.

For list of questions asked candidates for admission to the United States Military Academy at a recent examination, see Appendix A.

CHAPTER III.

PROMOTION OF ENLISTED MEN.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED OF APPLICANTS FROM THE ARMY.—THE EXAMINATION.—CANDIDATES FOR PROMOTION.

PROMOTION OF ENLISTED MEN.

Vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant in the Regular Army existing each year after the appointment and assignment of the graduates of the United States Military Academy are filled: First, from enlisted men of the Army found duly qualified; Second, from candidates from civil life who have passed a satisfactory examination. The candidates in each class will be appointed in order of merit as determined by the examining boards.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED OF APPLICANTS FROM THE ARMY.

Any enlisted man (it makes no difference whether he be a non-commissioned officer or private) of the Regular Army, unmarried, not over thirty years of age at the date set for the meeting of the examining board, who is a citizen of the United States, physically sound, of good moral character both before and after enlistment, and who has served honorably not less than two years in the Army (any honorable service counts, whether Regular or Volunteer, as a commissioned officer or enlisted man, or a Cadet at the United States Military Academy, whether continuous service or not) on or prior to the date set for the meeting of the examining board, may compete in the examination.

The two years' honorable service in the Army prior to the date of the applicant's examination must be exclusive of technical service due to furlough or other absence from duty in his own interest.

Furloughs not exceeding fifteen days in all, or for even a greater period in a case which may be determined by competent authority to be extraordinary, during the first two years of enlistment, will not be considered to be within the meaning of the preceding paragraph.

A soldier desiring to appear for examination before an examining board must make timely application therefor to his regimental commander through his company commander.

THE EXAMINATION.

With a view to the selection of proper enlisted men of the Army for the grade of second lieutenant, each commander of a geographical department, on or about June 1 of each year, will convene a board of five commissioned officers (including two medical officers, whose duties will be confined to inquire into and report upon the physical qualifications of the applicants) before which any enlisted men of the Regular Army serving within the department and possessing the necessary legal qualifications, and who may desire to take the examination, will be ordered to appear, and will be furnished with free transportation to the point of holding such examination and return to their proper stations.

No definite date for the convening of these boards has been designated. They will, in all probability, be ordered in the future to hold the examinations about June 1 of each year. Previous to our war with Spain, boards for the final competitive examination of enlisted men held the examinations beginning September 1 of each year, at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

The members and recorder of boards appointed for the examination of enlisted men, to determine their fitness for promotion, shall be sworn in every case to discharge their duties honestly and faithfully, and the boards may examine witnesses and take depositions, for which purposes they shall have such powers of a court of inquiry as may be necessary.

Every applicant will be subjected to a rigid physical examination, and if there be found to exist any cause of disqualification to such a degree as might in the future impair his efficiency as an officer in the Army, he will be rejected. Examination as to physical qualifications will conform to the standard required of recruits.

The board being satisfied with these preliminary points will proceed to examine each candidate separately in the following subjects:

1. English Grammar, including orthography, reading, and writing from oral dictation.

2. Mathematics, including arithmetic, algebra, to include the solution of equations of the first degree containing one unknown quantity, the use of logarithms, the elements of plane geometry, plane trigonometry and surveying.

3. Geography, particularly in reference to the United States of North America.

4. The outlines of general history, and particularly the history of the United States.

5. The Constitution of the United States and the organization of the Government under it; and the elements of international law.

6. Army regulations and the drill regulations of the arm from which the candidate is selected. The examination in drill regulations will be practical, extending through the school of the soldier, squad and platoon, and shall take place on the parade-ground in the presence of the board.

7. The military records of the candidates as certified to by their company, post and regimental commanders.

8. Physical aptitude as determined by the medical examination, proficiency in athletics, skill in field sports, etc.

9. Moral character and civil record as verified after a thorough investigation by the board.

After the examination has been completed and the board has examined and passed upon all the applicants, it will prepare a tabulated statement showing the order of their relative merit as developed by the examination, and the same will be forwarded, together with all papers pertaining to the examination, to the Adjutant-General of the Army.

For the purpose of appointment and of relative rank after appointment, the names of all the successful candidates will be arranged by the War Department on an eligible list according to their general average as reported by the departmental boards.

CANDIDATES FOR PROMOTION.

Each enlisted man recommended and passed by the board will receive from the Adjutant-General of the Army a certificate of eligibility for appointment to the grade of second lieutenant and will be known as a "candidate" for promotion. He will have the title "candidate" prefixed to his name in all rolls, returns, orders and correspondence in which it appears, and will be entitled to wear the "candidate's" stripes on the sleeves of uniform coat, blouse and overcoat, so long as he holds this specially honorable position.

These stripes will be worn on the upper half of each cuff, and will consist of a double stripe running the length of the cuff, pointed at the upper end, and with a small button below the point of the stripe; for uniform coat, of gold braid; for blouse and overcoat, of cloth of same color of facings of uniform; width of braid or cloth,  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch; width of space between braid,  $\frac{1}{8}$  inch.

A "candidate" who becomes ineligible by reason of age will be entitled to wear the "candidate's" stripe on the left sleeve so long as he maintains his good standing in the service.

The eligibility of a "candidate" for appointment as second lieutenant and his privileges as "candidate" terminate one year after date of his examination, unless he shall again be recommended on competitive examination. In order to secure a re-examination he will forward an application therefor through his regular military commanders (whose remarks will be endorsed thereon), to the Adjutant-General, at least three months in advance of the time of holding the competitive examination. After re-examination, he will take his place in the relative merit list with those examined at the time of his re-examination.

A soldier having failed to pass the competitive board may secure a second examination by making proper application therefor. Having twice failed to pass the board, he will not be ordered up for further examination.

No soldier will be re-examined who will pass the age limit prior to date set for such re-examination.

No soldier will be given a special examination. There will be but one competitive examination each year. Candidates with less than two years' service have been ordered to appear before examining boards, but were required to complete this service before receiving appointments.

Candidates who may be guilty of misconduct will be promptly reported to the Adjutant-General through regimental and department commanders. The report must contain a full statement of the alleged misconduct, with names of witnesses. The department commander will see that the candidate has a fair and impartial hearing, and will forward the report for the decision of the Secretary of War.

Candidates will not be deprived of the privileges of their position, unless by a sentence of a general court-martial or the order of the Secretary of War, except by operation of law. While holding the privileges of that position they will not be brought before a summary court, or a garrison or regimental court-martial.

For the laws pertaining to the promotion of enlisted men, and list of questions asked at a recent examination, see Appendix B.

The Army reorganization bill, approved February 2, 1901, makes the following provision for filling vacancies created by that Act:

SEC. 28. That vacancies in the grade of field officers and captain, created by the Act, in the cavalry, artillery, and infantry, shall be filled by promotion according to seniority in each branch, respectively. Vacancies existing after the promotions have been made shall be provided for as follows: A sufficient number shall be reserved in the grade of second lieutenant for the next graduating class at the United States Military Academy.

Persons not over forty years of age who shall have at any time served as volunteers subsequent to April twenty-first, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, may be ordered before boards of officers for such examination as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War, and those who establish their fitness before these examining boards may be appointed to the grades of first or second lieutenant in the Regular Army, taking rank in the respective grades according to seniority as determined by length of prior commissioned service; but no person appointed under the provisions of this section shall be placed above another in the same grade with longer commissioned service, and nothing herein contained shall change the relative rank of officers heretofore commissioned in the Regular Army.

Enlisted men of the Regular Army or volunteers may be appointed second lieutenants in the Regular Army to vacancies created by this Act: Provided, That they shall have served one year, under the same conditions now authorized by law for enlisted men of the Regular Army.

CHAPTER IV.

ENLISTING FOR A COMMISSION.

THE ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES OF THE DIFFERENT ARMS.—CAVALRY.—ARTILLERY.—INFANTRY.—BATTALION OF ENGINEERS, ETC.—HOSPITAL CORPS.—A BIT OF ADVICE TO ASPIRANTS.—MISCELLANEOUS.

An important matter to decide after having once made up your mind to enlist with the view of trying for a commission from the ranks, is that of choosing the regiment or arm of service to enter.

The arm of the service you represent when you appear before the board for examination will not add to or take from your chances of passing. The fact that you are an artilleryman, cavalryman, or infantryman will not affect your standing when the papers are graded.

Different men are suited to different arms of the service. A man might prove a failure as a cavalryman, yet have the making of a good foot soldier, and vice versa. Persons contemplating enlisting would do well to first carefully consider the duties of the different branches and decide which is best suited to them.

THE ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES OF THE DIFFERENT ARMS.

CAVALRY.

Many officers now in the service came from the ranks of the Cavalry arm. The service is always attractive, and persons physically suited to it usually become enthusiasts after once they become accustomed to the duties of a cavalryman. The United States Cavalry is recognized as the best in the world. Up to within the past few years most of the Cavalry regiments were stationed on the frontier, frequently in the field. Many of the regiments are now serving in our new possessions.

ARTILLERY.

Light batteries are necessarily hard worked. The men's time is usually taken up by drills, "stables," and other duties, and as a general thing could not be recommended to aspirants for commissions, owing to this fact. If, however, a young man comes into the service well equipped mentally, and requires no further preparation for the examinations than keeping "brushed up" on the necessary branches of study, he will find many charms in this arm. It is certainly the most picturesque branch of our Army, and the dash and activity of its duties are always inspiring.

Heavy batteries offer many opportunities to the young aspirant. They are our coast defense forces and are usually stationed near the larger sea-board cities. The study of mathematics (an important study for candidates for shoulder-straps) enters largely into the duties of heavy battery men.

INFANTRY.

The greater number of the officers of the Army who came from the ranks served as enlisted men in the Infantry arm. It is the largest branch of the Army—in fact, larger than all of the other arms combined. There is nothing in its evolutions and maneuvers on the parade-ground that is awe-inspiring or that tends to evoke applause, but at the same time it is the backbone of the service, and like the other branches of our military establishment, has always shown itself efficient in peace and war. Practically all of the Infantry is now serving in foreign parts. This arm of the service offers, undoubtedly, the best advantages for enlisted men to secure commissions.

BATTALION OF ENGINEERS, ETC.

The Battalion of Engineers, the Ordnance Department and the Signal Corps have each contributed their share of successful candidates for commissions. Officers from the ranks are seldom, if ever, commissioned to the Engineers or Ordnance Corps, and should an enlisted man from either of these branches be commissioned, his training in military duties while an enlisted man will not have been in the line of his duties as an officer. If a man is to be an Infantry, Cavalry, or Artillery officer, it is better for him to be trained in one of these schools. It cannot be contradicted that a man's training as a soldier comes well in hand once that he becomes an officer. To enter the Signal Corps requires a knowledge of telegraphy or line-man's duties. Of the three officers from the ranks now in this corps, all served as enlisted men in that branch.

HOSPITAL CORPS.

The pay of privates is better than the pay in the line. The requirements to enter are the same. The hours of duty are longer, but seldom as arduous. It offers ample opportunity for study. It is a non-combatant force and of course affords a non-combatant training. This is probably its greatest disadvantage. Quite a few of the officers now on the active list were once privates, acting stewards, or stewards in the Hospital Corps.

A BIT OF ADVICE TO ASPIRANTS.

When you join your company, have very little to say. If you were drawing a salary of $300 per month before enlisting, let that be a secret between yourself and your former employer.

Obeys the lawful orders of your officers and non-commissioned officers cheerfully and intelligently. Never comment on them. If you do not at first thoroughly understand what you are ordered to do, ask that the order be repeated.

Do not complain about the rations. Let the old soldiers do that; they know just when and how to growl, and besides, growling is a privilege conceded them.

Do not say anything about the fact that you enlisted with the hope of securing a commission. Once this is known, you will be viewed with a critical eye, and mountains may be made of mole-hills. After having been in the company for six or eight months, and having established a reputation for integrity, faithfulness and soldierly qualities, make known to your company commander your ambition. The chances are that he will make you a non-commissioned officer. Good material for non-commissioned officers is always scarce. By all means never ask to be given the "stripes." If your commanding officer sees fit to "make" you, he will do so. He will certainly not think well of you should you ask him to.

If you have served in a volunteer or militia regiment, or have had any other military training, do not say that "we did so and so" in the Ninety-sixth Foot, or whatever your former organization may have been.

It is better to do what soldiers call "straight" duty—i. e., carry a rifle and walk post. If you are a good clerk, the probabilities are that you will be given clerical work to do; but do not ask for it.

Do not be afraid to serve more than two years for your commission. Three or even four years won't hurt you. The discipline will do you good. An officer who has not learned to obey is not a fit person to exercise command.

Be studious. Do not think that you can over prepare yourself for the examination. Remember that the better you are prepared mentally the higher will be your average grading:

the higher your average grading, the sooner you will get your commission.

Keep your clothes and equipment clean, your shoes shined and your hair cut. Shave often and always present a neat and soldierly appearance. Never under any circumstances try to become familiar with your officers. Never, when addressing them, fail to use "sir."

Prove yourself "every inch a soldier."

MISCELLANEOUS.

There are very few officers in the service who will not offer every assistance to men under them who are striving to secure a higher position. Most of them possess books on the subjects in which the candidate for a commission is required to pass, and will gladly loan them to the aspirant, or will inform him where they may be obtained.

Through the ranks is the surest road to a commission. It is difficult to secure an appointment to the Military Academy, and, should a young man secure the appointment, he will find that his commission is not assured, for the percentage of failures at West Point is very great. The difficulty in securing a commission from civil life lies in the fact that the graduating class from the Military Academy must first be provided for. After this, should any vacancies remain unfilled, the successful competitors from the ranks of the Army are appointed to fill them. Last of all comes the candidate from civil life. The graduating class from West Point is seldom sufficiently large to fill all vacancies, but the successful applicants from the Army are usually enough to take up all that remains. The last few years has offered opportunities for all candidates, whether graduates of the Academy, candidates from the Army, or applicants from civil life, but this will not last long. In the future a man to be successful in securing appointment as second lieutenant must either enter the Military Academy or enlist and try his luck with other competitors from the ranks. A few may secure commissions from civil life, but the number will be small.

CHAPTER V.

THE ENLISTED MEN OF THE REGULAR ARMY.—REQUIREMENTS TO ENTER THE SERVICE.—DECLARATION OF RECRUIT.—CONSENT IN CASE OF MINOR.—OATH OF ENLISTMENT.—GENERAL RECRUITING STATIONS.

THE ENLISTED MEN OF THE REGULAR ARMY.

This little work, in addition to its being a guide to young men in civil life who are ambitious to become officers in our Army, is also intended as a manual for the enlisted men of the Regular service. To submit it with all its other imperfections, without a word on the enlisted man himself, would cripple it indeed. If the young aspirant for shoulder-straps contemplates securing them by graduating from the Military Academy, or taking his examination from civil life, he wants to know the character of the men he is to command. If he intends to enlist and win his spurs by first serving in the ranks, he wants to know what kind of men his fellow-soldiers are to be.

Before sounding the praises of the enlisted men of our permanent establishment, it is well to state that, like all other professions and vocations, the Army is made up of men from all walks and conditions of life, and the description of any one man, intended to portray the general character of the whole body, would condemn or eulogize individuals undeservedly.

As a class they have proven themselves to be steady, honest, conscientious, and patriotic men, whose devotion to duty during the trying and exacting campaigns in the tropics in our war with Spain and the insurgents of the Philippine Islands, and the advance to Peking in China, has elicited the admiration of the nations of the world. Their unflinching bravery, willingness to obey the orders of their superiors in rank, and their power for execution, have won them the confidence, affection, and praise of their officers.

The casual observer, the "know-all," and the bigot have accused them of being drunkards. To these people one man in the uniform of the United States Army seen intoxicated on the street brings visions of whole brigades and divisions reeling in inebriety. To them it never occurs that because a single brakeman is found tipsy on a public thoroughfare, it does not necessarily imply that the whole railroad system is staggering under a load of alcoholism. But this condemning a class for the indiscretions of individuals of that class seems to be confined to the enlisted men of the military service of our country.

No higher praise can be given them than by pointing to their record from Lexington to Peking. It is a catalogue of fortitude, bravery, devotion to duty, and victories.

At no time has the enlisted personnel of our service been of a higher order than during the past five years. Many young men of family, intelligence, and education are carrying rifles as private soldiers and upholding the honor of "Old Glory."

A man enlisting with the view of obtaining a commission need not isolate himself. He will find many excellent associates, who will welcome him to their pleasures and pastimes, should he merit it. Soldiers are anything but fools, and are not long in placing a new man on his proper level, according to his intrinsic worth.

REQUIREMENTS TO ENTER THE SERVICE.

In all the larger cities of the United States general recruiting offices are maintained. At any of them enlistments may be made for any arm of the service needing recruits at the time. Here any questions regarding pay, allowances, or duties of a soldier will be cheerfully answered.

An applicant for enlistment is frequently held for a few days on probation, at Government expense, pending investigation into his character, citizenship, or age.

Applicants who are under weight, short in chest measurements, or undersize otherwise, but who are young and give promise of broadening and growing, can frequently secure enlistment by making application to the Adjutant-General, U. S. A., Washington, D. C., for permission to do so. It is always best to make this application through a recruiting officer, giving him at the time your letters of recommendation, evidences of age and citizenship, and, in the case of a minor, written consent of father, only surviving parent, or guardian.

The following instructions, emanating from the Adjutant-General's office, govern recruiting for the Regular Army:

"Applicants for enlistment must be between the ages of 18 and 35 years, of good character and habits, able-bodied, free from disease, and must be able to speak, read, and write the English language.

"Married men will be enlisted only upon the approval of a regimental commander.

"Minors will not be enlisted without the written consent of father, only surviving parent, or legally appointed guardian.

"Original enlistments are confined to persons who are citizens of the United States, or who have made legal declaration of their intention to become citizens thereof.

"Applicants will be required to satisfy the recruiting officer regarding age and character, and should be prepared to furnish the necessary evidence.

"For Infantry and Artillery the height must be no less than five feet and four inches, and weight not less than 120 pounds and not more than 190 pounds.

"For Cavalry the height must be no less than five feet four inches and not more than five feet ten inches, and weight not to exceed 165 pounds. No minimum weight is prescribed for Cavalry, but the chest measurements must be satisfactory.

"The term of enlistment is three years.

"It is not necessary that an applicant should conform exactly to the figures indicated in the following table of proportions, the variation of a few pounds in weight either way, and of a fraction of an inch in chest measures, being permissible.

"Table of Physical Proportions for height, weight, and chest measurements:

Feet.	HEIGHT.		WEIGHT. Pounds.	CHEST MEASUREMENT.
	Inches.	Inches.		At Expiration. Inches.	Mobility. Inches.
5	4-12	64	128	32	2
5	5-12	65	130	32	2
5	6-12	66	132	32½	2
5	7-12	67	134	33	2
5	8-12	68	141	33¼	2½
5	9-12	69	148	33½	2½
5	10-12	70	155	34	2½
5	11-12	71	162	34¼	2½
6		72	169	34¾	3
6	1-12	73	176	35¼	3

"Applicants must defray their own expenses to the place of enlistment. Their fitness for the military service can be determined only upon examination at a military post, or other recruiting station."

34 A Manual for Aspirants for Commissions

At the recruiting office applicants will be required to answer the following questions before stripping for the physical examination:

Name; age; birthday; birthplace; occupation; residence; are you a citizen of the United States? have you made application for citizenship (if you are not now a citizen)? if so, in what court? state previous service (U. S. or foreign); date of last discharge, with organization; have you applied before for enlistment? if so, where? if rejected, for what cause?

Then follows a list of questions regarding the applicant's physical condition, both past and present.

The applicant will be required to remove all of his clothing for the physical examination by the medical examiner.

DECLARATION OF RECRUIT. *

Before taking the Oath of Enlistment, the applicant will be required to subscribe to the following form:

I, ———, desiring to enlist in the Army of the United States for the term of three years, do declare that I have neither wife nor child; that I am of legal age to enlist, and believe myself physically qualified to perform the duties of an able-bodied soldier; and I do further declare that I am of good habits and character in all respects, and have never been discharged from the United States service (Army or Navy) or any other service on account of disability, or through sentence of either civil or military court, nor discharged from any service, civil or military, except with good character, and for the reasons given by me to the recruiting officer prior to this enlistment.*

CHAPTER VI.

PROMOTIONS FROM CIVIL LIFE.

APPLICATIONS—TO WHOM MADE.—EXAMINING BOARDS—HOW CONSTITUTED.—QUALIFICATIONS.—RULES GOVERNING THE EXAMINATION.—ASSIGNMENT TO REGIMENT.—EXPENSES INCIDENT TO THE EXAMINATION.—NOTES.

Vacancies in the Army in the grade of second lieutenant existing each year after the appointment of graduates of the United States Military Academy, and enlisted men of the Army who have satisfactorily passed the competitive examination, are filled from civil life.

APPLICATIONS—TO WHOM MADE.

Civilians should address applications for appointment as second lieutenant to the Adjutant-General of the Army, Washington, D. C. There is no prescribed form of application. The names of all applicants are arranged on one list in the Adjutant-General's office for the consideration of the President when vacancies exist and appointments are to be made.

EXAMINING BOARDS—HOW CONSTITUTED.

Boards for the examination of applicants from civil life for appointment to position of second lieutenant in the Army will be appointed by the Secretary of War, and will consist of five commissioned officers, including two medical officers. The duties of the medical officers will be confined to the inquiring into and reporting upon the physical qualifications of the candidates.

QUALIFICATIONS—RULES GOVERNING THE EXAMINATION.

The applicant must be between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-seven years. He must be a citizen of the United States; physically qualified to discharge all of the duties of an officer in active service; free from any deformity of body or mental infirmity, and of good morals.

The following rules govern the examination of candidates from civil life for appointment to the Army as second lieutenants:

No person shall be examined unless he has a letter from the War Department authorizing his examination.

If the candidate has been graduated at an institution where he received military instruction, he must present a diploma or a recommendation from the faculty of the institution.

If a member of the National Guard, he must present recommendations from the proper National Guard authorities.

Every candidate will be subjected to a rigid physical examination, and if there be found to exist any cause of disqualification which might in the future impair his efficiency as an officer of the Army, he will be rejected. The board will inquire and report concerning each applicant, whether he is of good moral character or addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors. Examination as to physical qualifications will conform to the standard required of recruits, and include a certificate of physical examination by two medical officers to accompany the proceedings of the board (which will embrace all the information required by the form for the examination of recruits).

The board being satisfied as to these preliminary points, will proceed to examine each candidate separately:

1. In his knowledge of English grammar, and his ability to read, write, and spell with facility and correctness.

2. In his knowledge of arithmetic, and his ability to apply its rules to all practical questions; in his knowledge of the use of logarithms, and his ability to apply them to questions of practice; in his knowledge of algebra, to include the solution of simple equations, and his knowledge of geometry, plane trigonometry, and the elements of surveying.

3. In his knowledge of geography, particularly in reference to the northern continent of America.

4. In his knowledge of the outlines of general history, and particularly the history of his own country.

5. In his knowledge of the Constitution of the United States, and the organization of the Government under it, and the elements of international law.

6. The board, having examined into the mental qualifications of each candidate and his character for sobriety and fidelity, will also inquire into his general qualifications, aptitude, and probable efficiency as an officer of the Army.

No candidate will be passed by the board who shall not have attained an average of 65 per cent in each subject of the examination and a general average of at least 70 per cent.

When an examining board shall have passed upon more than one candidate, the order of relative merit of all the candidates examined by the board will be reported.

The proceedings of the board will be forwarded to the Adjutant-General.

ASSIGNMENT TO REGIMENT.

Candidates successful in securing commissions will be assigned to either the Cavalry, Artillery, or Infantry arm of the service, depending entirely upon existing vacancies at the time.

EXPENSES INCIDENT TO THE EXAMINATION.

Candidates from civil life must defray their expenses while attending the examination, and in traveling to and from the meeting-place of the examining boards. If successful in obtaining a commission, they will be required to bear their expense for travel from the place of receiving their order of assignment to a regiment to the place designated in the order for them to report for duty.

NOTES.

It is no easy matter to secure a commission in the Army from civil life. Where one vacancy exists there are hundreds of applicants for the place. The examination is not a hard one, but the difficulty lies in securing permission to appear before the examining board.

Civilians trying for appointment are invited to read the last paragraph of Chapter IV. Should they contemplate enlisting with this purpose in view, the perusal of "The Enlisted Men of the Regular Army," Chapter V., will give them an idea of the class of men with whom they would be thrown for two years or longer. Any other information regarding the service they may desire will be found in Chapters IV., V., and VIII.

For list of questions asked at a recent examination, see Appendix C.

CHAPTER VII.

A SHORT TALK WITH NEWLY COMMISSIONED OFFICERS.

The country is full of tailors; some are reputable and some are not. No advice can be given here as to whom to patronize. It will not be difficult, however, to learn the address of a satisfactory firm. In ordering your uniforms, it is better to have your measurements taken in person; but if this is not practicable, good results may be had by carefully filling out the measurement blanks furnished by all the better establishments. Do not load yourself down with a lot of cheap uniforms. They will never look well, and will probably cause you to be branded, upon first joining your regiment, as an officer careless about his personal appearance. On the other hand, do not go deeply into debt in order to get the most expensive outfit. Even if you have the money, it is not the best of taste to show extravagance in this matter. There is a medium between these two extremes which it is well to follow.

In these days of foreign service you will need an outfit something near the following list, the cost of which will be between two hundred and fifty and three hundred dollars:

Sword; revolver, with holster and cartridge-belt, for field service; sword belt, leather; field glasses; one undress blouse; one field blouse of dark blue cloth; two khaki blouses; two white duck blouses; two pairs of uniform trousers; two pairs khaki trousers; four pairs of white duck trousers; forage cap, dark blue; forage cap, white; campaign hat; pair of leggings; six pairs of white gloves; cape; overcoat; mackintosh, and high rubber boots.

44 A Manual for Aspirants for Commissions

The cape is not, strictly speaking, a part of the uniform. It cannot be worn when on duty with troops, but is a handsome and convenient article of dress and will be found very useful.

To the above list might be added the dress coat, dress (or gold lace) belt, shoulder-knots and helmet. The dress uniform is now so seldom worn that it would be hard to advise a young officer to provide himself with one unless he is sure of a station within the United States, where he would, probably, some time have need for it. This uniform is quite expensive, and besides, is more or less of a burden when traveling from station to station.

A newly appointed officer, immediately upon the receipt of his order of assignment to a regiment, should report at once to his regimental commander by letter.

When reporting for duty, wear your undress uniform and sword.

Begin and continue your military career by being exemplary in your deportment and considerate in your conduct toward the men under you. Remember that swearing at and abusing your inferiors in rank does not stamp you as embodying all that is necessary in a great military commander. Any common tough or bully can do this. The truly great commander of men is he who says little, but by his firmness and earnestness accomplishes much.

On all occasions respect the rank and length of service of the older officers of your regiment, and be cheerful, earnest, and loyal in obeying their orders.

There are people in both civil and military life who hold positions quite as high and honorable as a second lieutenant, and a newly appointed officer of the latter rank will do well to bear this fact in mind. Your position is a dignified, honorable, and just fairly remunerative one.

Do not go deeply into debt thinking that you can pay out easily from your salary. After a second lieutenant has paid his mess bills, kept himself provided with the necessary uniforms and equipment, and met the hundred and one other calls on his purse, he will find but little of his pay remaining. Men commissioned from the Army are especially warned against going into debt. Accustomed to the pay of a soldier, they overestimate the purchasing power of their monthly pay voucher and get hopelessly involved before they discover their mistake.

FORM OF OATH TAKEN BY ALL COMMISSIONED OFFICERS.

I, _____, having been appointed a _____ in the military service of the United States, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter. So help me God.

CHAPTER VIII.

GRADES OF RANK OF OFFICERS AND NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS.—RELATIVE RANK BETWEEN OFFICERS OF THE ARMY AND THE NAVY.—PAY AND ALLOWANCES OF OFFICERS.—PAY AND ALLOWANCES OF ENLISTED MEN.

GRADES OF RANK OF OFFICERS AND NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS.

The grades of rank of officers and non-commissioned officers of the United States Army are given below. In each grade, date of commission, appointment, or warrant determines the order of precedence. Officers of the Regular Army, Marine Corps, and Volunteers, when commissioned or mustered into the service of the United States, being upon equal footing, take precedence in each grade by date of commission or appointment. When employed with the Regular or Volunteer troops, Militia officers take rank next after all officers of like grade in those forces.

Should two or more officers of the Regular or Volunteer forces be of the same grade and date of appointment or commission, other than through regular promotion through seniority, their relative rank is determined by length of service as a commissioned officer, either in the Regular or Volunteer establishments, since April 19, 1861. It makes no difference whether this service has been continuous or not:

1. Lieutenant-general.
2. Major-general.
3. Brigadier general.
4. Colonel.
5. Lieutenant-colonel.

6. Major.
7. Captain.
8. First lieutenant.
9. Second lieutenant.
10. Cadet U. S. Military Academy.
11. Sergeant-major (regimental).
12. Quartermaster sergeant (regimental).
13. Commissary sergeant (regimental).
14. Ordnance sergeant, commissary sergeant, post quartermaster sergeant, electrician sergeant, hospital steward, first-class sergeant of the Signal Corps, chief musician, chief trumpeter, and principal musician.
15. Squadron, or battalion sergeant-major, and color-sergeant.
16. First sergeant and drum major.
17. Company or troop quartermaster sergeant, sergeant, and acting hospital steward.
18. Corporal.
19. Lance corporal.

RELATIVE RANK BETWEEN OFFICERS OF THE ARMY AND NAVY.

Lineal rank only being considered, the relative rank between officers of the Army and Navy is as follows:

Army.	Navy.
1. General.	1. Admiral.
2. Lieutenant-general.	2. Vice-admiral.
3. Major-general.	3. Rear-admiral.
4. Brigadier general.	4. Commodore.
5. Colonel.	5. Captain.
6. Lieutenant-colonel.	6. Commander.
7. Major.	7. Lieutenant commander.

- |                        |                              |
|------------------------|------------------------------|
| 8. Captain.            | 8. Lieutenant.               |
| 9. First lieutenant.   | 9. Lieutenant (junior grade) |
| 10. Second lieutenant. | 10. Ensign.                  |

PAY AND ALLOWANCES OF OFFICERS.

Pay of Officers in Active Service.

In time of war every officer serving with troops operating against an enemy who shall exercise, under assignment in orders issued by competent authority, a command above that pertaining to his grade, shall be entitled to receive the pay and allowances of the grade appropriate to the command so exercised. A rate of pay exceeding that of a brigadier general shall not be paid in any case by reason of such assignment.

The pay of officers serving in Porto Rico, Cuba, the Philippine Islands, Hawaii, and in the Territory of Alaska shall be increased 10 per centum over and above the rates of pay proper as given in the following table:

The 10 per cent increase for length of service is computed from date of acceptance of appointment. Officers are entitled to count their full time as officers of Volunteers, or as enlisted men, Regular or Volunteer, or as Cadets at the Military Academy, in computing their service for longevity pay.

An officer on duty without troops at a station where there are no public quarters, or where the public quarters are inadequate, is entitled to commutation therefor at established rates.

Officers entitled to commutation of quarters will receive payment therefor at the rate of $12 per month per room. A lieutenant is entitled to two rooms, a captain to three, etc.

Officers of the Army are entitled to a double berth in a sleeping car, or to the customary stateroom accommodations on steamers, where extra charge is made for the same, when traveling under orders with troops.

When an officer travels without troops under orders, he is entitled to the following allowances: To mileage at the rate of seven cents per mile for the distance between the points named in the order, such distance to be computed over the shortest usually travelled route.

In the following cases no expense of travel is allowed: In joining for duty upon first appointment to the military service, or under the first order after a reinstatement or reappointment, or under an order to effect a transfer from one company or regiment to another, made at the request of the officers transferred. Assistant surgeons, graduates of the Military Academy, and officers appointed from the ranks, joining under first order after appointment or commission, are excepted from these provisions.

The baggage of a second lieutenant to be transported at public expense, including mess chests and personal baggage, upon change of station, will not exceed 1,500 pounds. This allowance is in excess of the weights transported free of charge under the regular fares by public carriers. When embarking under orders for extended service over the sea for duty, the allowance of baggage to be transported by the quartermaster's department from initial point to port of embarkation and from port of destination to garrison station will be three times this allowance. This allowance will be carried over the seas, by order of the War Department, on Government transports. The field allowance is 150 pounds.

Officers when traveling to and from Cuba and Porto Rico, in the Atlantic, and the Hawaiian, Philippine, and other islands in the Pacific Ocean, under orders and without troops, will be allowed actual expenses only, an itemized statement of which must be filed with each voucher for payment.

PAY AND ALLOWANCES OF ENLISTED MEN.

All soldiers receive from the Government (in addition to their pay) rations, clothing, bedding, medicines, and medical attendance.

To the above rates of pay add $2.00 per month for the sixth year of continuous service, an additional dollar per month for the eleventh, sixteenth, twenty-first, twenty-sixth, and thirty-first year of continuous service. Example.—Pay of a private soldier per month: First and second years, $13; third year, $14; fourth year, $15; fifth year, $16; sixth year, $18; eleventh year, $19; sixteenth year, $20; twenty-first year, $21; twenty-sixth year, $22.

Soldiers serving in Porto Rico, Cuba, Alaska, Hawaiian Islands, and Philippine Islands are entitled to 20 per cent added to the above pay.

Enlisted men who have been honorably discharged from the Marine Corps and have enlisted in the Army within three months thereafter, are regarded as having been continuously in the service, and entitled to all the advantages it confers under the laws.

When the soldier is able and willing to serve out his term, but has had his service closed or interrupted by the action of the Government, as in case of supernumeraries, etc., and he is then re-enlisted within three months after discharge, he is entitled to the increase after five years' service.

An enlisted man when discharged from the service, except by way of punishment for an offense, shall receive four cents per mile from the place of his discharge to the place of his enlistment, enrollment, or original muster into the service, except that for sea travel on discharge to, from, or between our island possessions transportation and subsistence only shall be furnished him. Enlisted men who are discharged in order to enable them to accept commissions in the Army are not entitled to travel pay.

A soldier will not be entitled to travel pay when discharged:

- (1) On account of promotion.
- (2) On his own application, whether by way of favor, by purchase, or as a veteran.
- (3) While in the hands of the civil authorities under sentence of imprisonment.
- (4) By way of punishment for an offense.

A soldier can deposit his savings in sums not less than five dollars with any Army paymaster, and for sums so deposited for a period of six months or longer, on his final discharge, will be paid interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum. These deposits are non-forfeitable except for desertion.

By care and economy a soldier can save a considerable sum from his clothing allowance, payable to him on his discharge.

In time of peace, a soldier serving in the second year or first six months of the third year of his enlistment may apply to the Adjutant-General of the Army, through military channels, for the privilege of purchasing his discharge; but such application will not be entertained unless based on satisfactory reasons fully set forth by the applicant and verified by the officer forwarding the application, nor unless accompanied by a statement of the soldier's immediate commanding officer showing the condition of his accounts. If such application be granted, the purchase price will be entered on the final statements as an item due the United States. A soldier once discharged by purchase will not be granted that favor a second time. A soldier serving in a second or any other enlistment, but not receiving continuous service or re-enlisted pay, is not debarred from discharge by purchase. The price in the first month of the second year will be $120, and will be $5 less in each succeeding month of the period during which purchase may be authorized.

CHAPTER IX.

A FEW WORDS FROM A SOLDIER'S DICTIONARY.

Blind. A fine imposed by a court-martial.

Bobtail. An ordinary discharge certificate with the "character" cut off. This form of discharge without "character" is no longer given.

Bucking for orderly. The act of cleaning clothing and equipment preparatory to going on guard, with the view of being adjudged by the adjutant the cleanest man of all the details for guard duty, and, consequently, being selected as orderly for the commanding officer.

Bunk fatigue. Lying on one's bunk during fatigue hours. Being on no duty.

Bunkie. The soldier occupying the adjoining bunk.

Butter chips. The mythical "checks" which recruits are often instructed by the old soldiers to demand of the "top sergeant."

Button stick. A flat piece of metal or wood having a narrow slit in the center into which buttons are run in order that they may be cleaned without soiling the garment to which they are attached.

Canteen checks. Brass checks having a purchasing power at the post canteen where they are issued.

Chasing prisoners. Being on guard over prisoners at work.

Coffee-cooler. A soldier who seeks and performs duties that excuse him from the usual, or military, duties of a soldier.

Coffee money. Money paid soldiers in lieu of the coffee ration when traveling and it being impracticable to furnish them with liquid coffee.

Come and get it. A soldier-cook's words to notify his comrades that the meal hour has arrived.

56     A Manual for Aspirants for Commissions

Commission-bucker. An aspirant for shoulder-straps; a candidate for a commission.

Cook's police. Men detailed to assist the cook.

Cracker line. The line of communication with the base of supplies. Sometimes applied to the transportation used to bring up the provisions, or commissaries.

Dadiac: A liquid used for polishing leather equipments. It was well known to the "Old Army," but is now seldom used. To polish with dadiac.

Dog-robber. A soldier who works for an officer. See striker.

Dough-boy. An infantry soldier. See mud-splasher.

Duty sergeant. A company sergeant other than the first sergeant or quartermaster sergeant.

Fatigue. Work. Any duties of the nature of manual labor.

Feed. Food; victuals. To eat.

Finals. Money due a soldier from the Government at the date of his discharge.

Gun. Rifle or carbine.

Hand-shaker. See coffee-cooler.

Hardtack. Hard bread. The crackers issued by the commissary department as the bread component of the field ration.

Heel-ball. A wax-like substance used for polishing leather or stocks of rifles.

Hero stories. Tales of reminiscences as told by men returning from active service.

Hike. March. To march in the field; to campaign.

Hold up your hand. To enlist. See take on.

Jawbone. Credit.

Juniper. A civilian. Any person not in the military service.

Kitchen police. See cook's police.

K. O. The commanding officer.

Lance-jack. A lance corporal; an acting corporal.

Leather-pounder. A cavalry or mounted soldier.

Locker. A box or closet in which soldiers keep their extra clothing.

Long Tom. The infantry rifle.

Mess hall. A room in which a company or other organization eats its meals.

Mill. The guard-house. A room or cell in which soldiers are confined as punishment for the commission of military offenses.

Mud-splasher. A foot soldier. See dough-boy.

Non-com. A non-commissioned officer.

Old man. The commanding officer.

Orderly-bucker. One who tries for orderly. See bucking for orderly.

Orderly room. The company, troop, or battery office.

Plum "duff." Plum pudding. Usually made with molasses as the sweetening ingredient.

Police. To cleanse; to free from dirt.

Pull-through. A strong string used for pulling rags through the bore of a rifle to clean it.

Punk. Bread.

Quarters. Barracks or officers' residences.

Rear. A necessary outhouse.

Rookey. A recruit.

Room orderly. A soldier detailed to attend to the cleaning of the barracks or squad rooms. His duties are to fill the lamps, build the fires, and see that the floors, walls and windows are clean.

Shavey. An officer just appointed to the service. Usually applied to the newest second lieutenant in the regiment.

Short month. Every other month. So called because 25 cents for the support of the Soldiers' Home is deducted from the soldier's pay.

Slum. Irish stew.

Spuds. Potatoes.

Striker. A soldier employed by an officer as a sort of valet.
See dog-robber.

Take on. The act of enlisting. See hold up your hand.

Turn out. To appear outside the barracks or quarters for the performance of some military duty.

Year and a butt. A year and a fraction of a year. A soldier who is starting on the second year of a three-year enlistment would say that he has a "year and a butt" yet to serve.

Wagon soldiers. Light batterymen.

White money. Literally, silver money. The word is used by soldiers in contradistinction from canteen checks, which are made of brass.

Within the limits. A soldier who re-enlists within three months from date of his discharge is said to have re-enlisted "within the limits."

APPENDIX A.

QUESTIONS ASKED AT RECENT EXAMINATIONS.

The following questions were asked at a recent examination of applicants for appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York. A fair idea of the character and extent of these examinations may be obtained from them. It is well to warn the aspirant right here that these examinations are always thorough, and it is useless for any person not thoroughly conversant with the subjects they embrace to appear before the examining boards:

Reading, Writing, and Orthography.

In reading, candidates must be able to read understandingly, with proper accent and emphasis.

In writing and orthography, they must be able, from dictation, to write sentences from standard pieces of English literature, both prose and poetry, sufficient in number to test their qualifications both in handwriting and orthography. They must also be able to write and spell correctly from dictation a certain number of standard test words. The following were given at a recent examination:

"There was no pursuit, though the sun was still high in the heaven when William crossed the Gette. The conquerors were so much exhausted by marching and fighting that they could scarcely move; and the horses were in even worse condition than the men. Their general thought it necessary to allow some time for rest and refreshment. The French nobles unloaded their sumpter horses, supped gaily, and pledged one another in champagne amidst the heaps of dead; and, when night fell, whole brigades gladly lay down to sleep in their ranks on the field of battle. The inactivity of Luxemburg did not escape censure. None could deny that he had in the action shown great skill and energy. But some complained that he wanted patience and perseverance. Others whispered that he had no wish to bring to an end a war which made him necessary to a Court where he had never, in time of peace, found favour or even justice. Lewis, who on this occasion was perhaps not altogether free from some emotions of jealousy, contrived, it was reported, to mingle with the praise which he bestowed on his lieutenant blame which, though delicately expressed, was perfectly intelligible."

"And what is home and where, but with the loving?
 Happy thou art, that so canst gaze on thine!
 My spirit feels but, in its weary roving,
 That with the dead, where 'er they be, is mine.

"Go to thy home, rejoicing son and brother!
 Bear in fresh gladness to the household scene!
 For me, too, watch the sister and the mother,
 I will believe—but dark seas roll between."

20. In what war were the following fought? What were the opposing forces? Which side won? a. Ticonderoga. b. Monterey. c. Saratoga. d. Stony Point. e. Spottsylvania. f. Lundy's Lane.

APPENDIX B.

LAW AUTHORIZING THE PROMOTION OF ENLISTED MEN, AND LIST OF QUESTIONS ASKED CANDIDATES AT A RECENT EXAMINATION.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled. That the President be, and he is hereby, authorized to prescribe a system of examination of enlisted men of the Army, by such boards as may be established by him, to determine their fitness for promotion to the grade of second lieutenant:

Provided, That all unmarried soldiers under thirty years of age, who are citizens of the United States, are physically sound, who have served honorably not less than two years in the Army, and who have borne a good moral character before and after enlistment, may compete for promotion under any system authorized by this act.

Section 2. That the members and recorder of such boards as may be established by the President, under the provisions of the preceding section, shall be sworn in every case to discharge their duties honestly and faithfully; and the boards may examine witnesses, and take depositions, for which purposes they shall have such powers of a court of inquiry as may be necessary.

Section 3. That the vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant heretofore filled by promotion of meritorious non-commissioned officers of the Army, under the provisions of Section three of the act approved June 18, 1878, shall be filled by the appointment of competitors favorably recommended under this act, in order of merit established by the final examination. Each man who passes the final examination shall receive a certificate of eligibility, setting forth the subjects in which he is proficient and the especial grounds upon which the recommendation is based: Provided, That not more than two examinations shall be accorded the same competitor.

Section 4. That all rights and privileges arising from a certificate of eligibility may be vacated by sentence of a court-martial, but no soldier, while holding the privileges of a certificate, shall be brought before a garrison or regimental court-martial or summary court.

Section 5. That sections three and four of the act approved June 18, 1878, providing for the promotion of meritorious non-commissioned officers, be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

Approved June 30, 1892.

List of Questions Asked Candidates at a Recent Examination.

No candidate will be passed by the board who shall not have attained an average of 65 per cent in each subject of the examination and a general average of at least 70 per cent.

English Grammar.

1. What are the four divisions of English grammar?
2. How many parts of speech are there in the English language? Define them.
3. Define analysis.
4. What are the principal elements of a sentence called? Define them.
5. Analyze the following sentence: "The boy stood on the burning deck, whence all but him had fled."
6. Parse the words of the above sentence.
7. Parse the words in the following sentence: "The army crossed the river by a bridge of pontoon boats."

8. Analyze the above sentence.

9. Parse the italicized words of the following sentence: "When my time was expired, I worked my passage home; and glad I was to see Old England again, because I love my country."

10. Quotation from William Cullen Bryant, as an examination in dictation, orthography, and penmanship.

Arithmetic.

1. If a family by using two gas burners  $7\frac{1}{2}$  hours a day, pays \$6.00 a quarter when gas is \$2.40 per 1,000 cu. ft., what will a family using three burners four hours a day pay per quarter when gas is \$1.80 per 1,000 cu. ft.?

2. (a) Extract the cube root of 1250.6894. (b) Extract the cube root of  $\frac{7}{8}$ .

3. (a) What principal will produce in two years $650.14, compound interest at 6%?

4. A banker has in his safe the following note: A note for \$1670.50, dated July 1, 1884, payable on demand with interest at  $6\frac{1}{2}$  %, bears the following indorsements: August 20, \$315; September 21, \$360.50; October 5, \$400; December 1, \$160. What is due January 1, 1885?

5. (a) What is meant by the least common multiple? (b) Determine the least common multiple of 6, 15, 35, 42, and 70. (c) Determine the least common multiple of 16, 40, 96, and 105.

6. (a) Change 11-13 into a fraction whose numerator shall be 17. (b) Change 7-19 into a fraction whose numerator shall be 27. (c) Change 9-31 into a fraction whose numerator shall be 33.

7. A tailor made three suits of clothes: for the first he used  $2\frac{1}{8}$  yards of broadcloth, 3 1-16 yards of cassimere,  $\frac{7}{8}$  yards of satin; for the second suit, 2.25 yards of broadcloth, 2.875 yards of cassimere, and 1 yard of satin; for the third suit, 5 1-16 yards of broadcloth, and  $1\frac{1}{8}$  yards of satin. How many yards of each kind of cloth did he use? How many yards of all?

8. A building contractor has the following tasks to execute; make the required calculations for him: (a) How many perches of masonry in the wall of a cellar which is 20 feet square on the inside, 8 feet high, and  $1\frac{1}{2}$  feet in thickness? (b) How many shingles will it take to cover the roof of a building 46 feet long, each of the two sides of the roof being 20 feet wide, allowing each shingle to be 4 in. wide and to lie 5 in. to the weather? (c) What will it cost to build a wall 240 feet long, 6 feet high and 3 feet thick, at \$3.25 per 1000 brick, each brick being 8 in. long, 4 in. wide, and 2 in. thick?

9. If I sell \$25,000.00 U. S. 5-20's of 1882 at  $93\frac{3}{4}\%$ , and invest a sufficient amount of the proceeds in U. S. 6's at  $109\frac{1}{4}\%$  to yield an annual income of \$960.00, and buy a house with the remainder, how much will the house cost me?

10. When it was 1 o'clock a. m., January 1, 1893, at Bangor, Maine,  $68^{\circ} 47'$  west, what was the time at the City of Mexico,  $99^{\circ} 5'$  west?

11. (a) A grocer bought 40 quarts of milk by beer measure and sold it by wine measure; how many quarts did he gain? (b) A bushel (or 32 quarts dry measure) contains how many more cubic inches than 32 quarts wine measure?

12. (a) Reduce 10 oz. 13 pwt. 9 gr. to the decimal of a pound Troy. (b) Reduce  $4\frac{7}{8}$  feet to the decimal of a fathom. (c) Reduce 150 sheets of paper to the decimal of a ream.

Algebra.

1. What is the reciprocal of an algebraic quantity? What the reciprocal of  $a$ ;  $-m$ ;  $-d$ ;  $v + z - 2$ ?

2. Reduce to lowest terms the following:

$$\frac{a^2c + 2abc + b^2c}{a^3 + 3a^2b + 3ab^2 + b^3} \cdot \frac{(3x^2 - 1)(2x^2 - 1) - x^2(5x^2 - 7)}{(3x^2 - 1)^2 + (x^2 - 3)^2}$$

3. From  $\frac{4a - 3b}{7ab(a - b) - 2(a^2 - b^2)}$  take  $\frac{8a - b}{3ab(a + b) - 2(a^2 + b^2)}$

4. Simplify  $\left\{ \frac{\frac{a+1}{a} + \frac{b+1}{b} - \frac{c+1}{c} - \frac{d+1}{d}}{\frac{cd}{c+d} - \frac{ab}{a+b}} \right.$

5. Find the value of  $x$  in the following:

$$\frac{2.4x - .12}{2.8} - \frac{4.6x - 3.6}{4} = \frac{.64x - .048}{7}$$

6. A crew which can row at the rate of 12 miles an hour in still water, finds that it takes 7 hours to come up a river a certain distance, and 5 hours to go down again. At what rate does the river flow?

Logarithms.

1. What is a logarithm; the mantissa; the arithmetical complement?

2. Using logarithms, divide 24163 by 4567; 37.149 by 523.76.

3. Using logarithms, find the 7th power of 8.

Geometry.

1. Upon what does the size of an angle depend? What are exterior angles? Alternate interior angles? Corresponding angles? Draw a diagram showing these angles.

2. On a circle 3 inches in diameter indicate the following: The circumference; the center; an arc; a radius; a diameter; a chord; a tangent; a secant; and describe them.

3. Theorem:—An angle formed by two secants meeting without the circle is measured by one-half the difference of the intercepted arcs. Draw diagram and demonstrate fully.

4. Theorem:—An exterior angle of a triangle is equal to the sum of the two interior non-adjacent angles. Draw diagram and demonstrate fully.

Trigonometry.

1. At the center of a circle 3 inches in diameter draw an angle A, and then add lines to show the following trigonometrical functions: Sin. A; Cosin. A; tangent A; cotangent A; secant A; cosecant A; Versin. A; and Coversin. A.

2. Theorem:—The sides of a plane triangle are proportional to the sines of their opposite angles. Draw diagram and demonstrate.

3. What is a table of logarithmic sines? Determine the tangent of  $37^{\circ} 28' 31''$ . Determine the arc answering to cosine 9.944599.

Surveying.

1. What is meant by a true meridian? Describe briefly the method by which it is determined.

2. Describe levelling.

3. With a surveyor's chain 4 inches too long a man computes the area of a tract of land to be 65 A. 2 R. 11 P. Find the correct area.

4. Compute by method of Double Meridian Distance the area of the following compass survey:

Station.	Bearing.	Distance.
1.	N. $31\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ W.	10.40 chains
2.	S. $36^{\circ}$ E.	7.60 chains
3.	N. $62^{\circ}$ E.	9.20 chains
4.	S. $45\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$ W.	10.00 chains

Geography.

1. Name the Great Lakes. What one lies wholly within the United States.

2. Name the States that border on the Atlantic; the Pacific; Gulf of Mexico.

3. Through what waters would you pass going by steamer from Pittsburg, Pa., to Galveston, Texas? From Duluth, Minn., to Boston, Mass.?

4. Name the capitals of the following States; and if on a river, give its name: Virginia, Alabama, Wisconsin, New Jersey, Missouri, New York, Oregon, Kentucky, Minnesota, Texas, South Carolina, and Ohio.

5. Bound the States of Tennessee and Nevada; Nebraska and Alabama.

6. Name the States of Central America and their capitals.

7. Name the continents. What portion of the Earth's surface is land and what water?

8. What island off the east coast of Africa? Name five rivers in Europe.

74 A Manual for Aspirants for Commissions

9. Name the transcontinental railways of the United States.

10. Where are the Alps mountains? Great Salt Lake? and the Aleutian Islands?

History.

1. What are the three divisions of history? What period of history is called the Dark Ages, and why so called?

2. What can you tell of the feudal system? Tell all you know about the Crusades.

3. Who was Cyrus the Great? Alexander the Great? Hannibal? Napoleon?

4. Name some event in connection with the life of each.

5. What do you know of the Thirty Years' War? Who was William the Conqueror? Name two campaigns of Napoleon the Great.

6. Give some event occurring in the following dates: 1588; 1618; 1815; 1846; and 1876. When was America first discovered? Who were the Mound Builders? Who was De Soto? Henry Hudson? Ponce de Leon? Tell what you can of the French and Indian War.

7. Name the thirteen original States. What were the causes of the Revolutionary War? Give the dates of the beginning and end. Name five battles.

8. What were the causes of the War of 1812? Name three battles of the Mexican War. Name two generals of the United States during this war. Name in order the first five Presidents.

9. What was the cause of the Civil War? Give the date of its beginning and end. Name six battles and the victorious force of each. When was the Constitution adopted and when did it go into operation?

10. Name five important events in the history of the United States during the last ten years. What territory was purchased by the United States in 1867?

Constitutional Law.

1. What is the preamble to the Constitution?
2. How are congressional representatives chosen, and for how long?
3. How are vacancies filled?
4. How are senators elected?
5. How are United States judgeships filled, and for how long?
6. What constitutes treason against the United States?
7. What States were represented in the body that framed the Constitution?
8. How may the Constitution be amended?
9. What is the supreme law of the land?
10. How may, or shall, the president, vice-president, and all civil officers of the United States be removed from office for treason, bribery, and other high crimes and misdemeanors?

International Law.

1. What is International Law?
2. What is a sovereign State according to the interpretation of International Law?
3. What is Martial Law?
4. What is war?
5. To whom, in every civilized nation, does the right to declare war belong?
6. What is meant by the term "contraband of war"?
7. What is a siege; a blockade?

8. What is meant by the term "parole"?
9. What is a cartel?
10. What is the extent of maritime territory, in a national sense?

Army Regulations.

1. What is said in relation to obedience to lawful orders? How is military authority exercised?
2. What is military rank? How is relative rank determined between officers of the same grade and date of appointment, other than promotion through seniority?
3. What are the different ways, and by whom can enlisted men be discharged?
4. Describe the flag of the United States. How are changes made in it, and when does any change take effect?
5. What honors are paid to the flag by armed bodies? What by individual officers and enlisted men? What by the same when not armed?
6. What is a roster? What details for duty are made by roster?
7. What constitute the books and records of a company of Infantry?
8. Describe the military courtesy between officers meeting, and in making and receiving official reports.
9. What is a national salute? Salute to the Union? When is the latter fired and what does it constitute?
10. What are the rules with reference to saluting the President with cannon?

APPENDIX C.

QUESTIONS ASKED CANDIDATES FROM CIVIL LIFE AT A RECENT EXAMINATION.

English Grammar.

1. What is a noun and for what are they inflected?
2. Give the feminine form of the following: Giant; ambassador; sorcerer; hero; testator; dog; Englishman; peacock; conductor; he-bear; duke; traitor; sultan; mankind; bachelor; beau.
3. Write the plurals of the following: Bandit; court-martial; die; motto; lasso; fairy; monkey; wolf; belief; axis; man-of-war; painful; Norman; tooth-brush; focus; datum; index; Henry; staff; oasis.
4. Write the possessive case of the following: We; women; Charles; they; prince; man-of-war; Frederick the Great; sons.
5. What is a verb?
6. Give the present tense, past tense, and past participle of the following verbs: Steal; tear; fight; loose; smell; lead; catch; crow; eat; freeze; knit; let; mow; slay; throw; stick; fly; love; sit; burst; lie (to recline).
7. What is an adjective and how are they compared?
8. Compare the following: Bad; little; much; honest; many; strong; beautiful.
9. What is the subject of a sentence? What is the predicate?
10. Give an example of a regular verb, irregular verb, transitive verb, intransitive verb, and neuter verb.

78 A Manual for Aspirants for Commissions

11. Parse the following: (1) Halt! Who is there? (2) Beware, lest evil result. (3) He is learning to write. (4) Do you wish him gone? (5) I am he. (6) He gave me a watch. (7) Boys love to play. (8) Whom have ye there?

12. Correct all errors in the following sentences:

1. Choose between these four houses.
2. He jumped in a cab.
3. They were very respected.
4. Ask that man, he who stands by the window.
5. Are either of these places marked on the map?
6. You can hardly find a more universal blunder.
7. I found it harder than I thought it would have been.
8. I have written to him so that he might be ready for us.
9. There is both a large and small dictionary in the room.

Arithmetic.

1. Multiply 242.0203 by 0.00203.
2. Divide 0.00203 by 0.000203.
3. Multiply 3 5-6 by 5 2-7.
4. Divide 5 2-7 by 3 5-6.
5. Reduce the following to a decimal:

$$\frac{3}{5} \text{ of } 2\frac{1}{2}$$

$$4 + \frac{5}{8} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$$

6. Find the least common multiple of 6, 7, 9, 24, and 32.
7. How many cords in a pile of wood 7 ft. high, 8 ft. wide, and 44 ft. long?
8. What time elapsed from November 8th, 11 o'clock a. m., 1847, till December 16th, 4 o'clock p. m., 1850?
9. The longitude of New York is 74° 1' west, and of Philadelphia  $75^{\circ} 10'$  west. What o'clock is it at Philadelphia when it is noon at New York?

10. If three cats kill three rats in three minutes, how many cats will kill 100 rats in 100 minutes?

Algebra.

1. Divide  $(x + y)^3 + 3(x + y)^2z + 3(x + y)z^2 + z^3$  by  $(x + y)^2 + 2(x + y)z + z^2$ .
2. Find value of  $x$  in  $5(x - 2)^2 + 7(x - 3)^2 = (3x - 7)(4x - 19) + 42$ .
3. Find highest common factor of  $3x^3 + 6x^2 - 24x$ , and  $6x^3 - 96x$ .
4. Find least common multiple of  $a^2 - a - 20$ , and  $a^2 + a - 12$ .
5. Reduce to lowest terms

$$\frac{x + y}{(x + y)(y - y)}$$

6. Simplify  $1 - \frac{1}{1 + \frac{1}{x}}$

7. Solve this:  $(x - a)(x - b) = (x - a - b)^2$

8. A fraction which is equal to  $\frac{2}{3}$  is increased to  $\frac{8}{11}$  when a certain number is added to both its numerator and denominator, and is diminished to  $\frac{5}{9}$  when one more than the same number is subtracted from each. What is the fraction?

9. A boatman rows 30 miles (down stream and back) in 12 hours. He finds he can row 5 miles with the stream in the same time as 3 against it. Find the time he was rowing up stream and time down stream.

Geometry.

1. What is a line?
2. What is an angle?
3. Explain and illustrate how to bisect an angle.
4. Explain and illustrate how to construct an angle equal to a given angle.
5. Explain and illustrate how to erect a perpendicular to a line from without.
6. Explain and illustrate how to erect a perpendicular to a line at its extremity when the line cannot be produced.
7. What is an equilateral triangle and what is the value, in degrees, of each of its angles? What is an isosceles triangle?
8. Explain and illustrate how to divide a line 3 inches long into 7 equal parts.
9. Demonstrate and explain fully the following theorem: Through any three points not in the same straight line one circumference may be made to pass.
10. What is the sum of the interior angles of a polygon equal to? What is the sum of the interior angles of a polygon having 7 sides?
11. Find the circumference of a circle whose radius is 3 feet.
12. What is the area of a triangle equal to?
13. The distance of a chord, 8 feet long, from the center of a circle is 3 feet. What is the diameter of the circle?
14. What is the measure of an inscribed angle?
15. What is the size, in degrees, of the largest angle that can be inscribed in an arc of 135°?

Trigonometry and Logarithms.

1. As an angle varies, which changes the more rapidly,  $\cos. 10$  or  $\cos. 80$ ?

2.

Given  $A\ 27^\circ\ 34'$ ,  $B\ 30^\circ$ , and side  $h\ 325$  ft.; find  $C$ ,  $g$ , and  $t$ .

3. Given  $a\ 43$  yds.,  $b\ 55$  yds., and angle  $C\ 110$  degrees; find the remaining parts of the triangle by using logarithms.

4. Prove that the area of any plane triangle is equal to half the rectangle of any two sides multiplied by the sine of their included angle.

5. Given  $a\ 32.244$  yds.,  $b\ 49$  yds.,  $C\ 32^\circ\ 18'\ 10''$ , find  $B$  and side  $c$  (by logarithms). (See Fig. 2.)

6. Find the number whose logarithm is  $\frac{1}{4}$  of this logarithm—namely, 3.0214.

7. Multiply 1.34621 by 0.8.

8. What is the A. C. of 8.20345?

9. What is the base of the Common System of Logarithms?

10. Show graphically, sine, cosine, versine, coversine, tangent, cotangent, secant, cosecant.

Surveying.

1. Construct (roughly) a scale of 6.336 inches to 1 mile to read paces of 30 inches.

2. Explain how to adjust the needle of a compass.

3. How is the surveyor's chain folded and opened.

4. Explain how to chain up a hill.

5. What is a plumb line? A bubble tube?

82      A Manual for Aspirants for Commissions

6. Explain how to make the plane of the plate bubbles of the transit perpendicular to the vertical axis.

7. Explain how to make the axis of the bubble tube of the Wye level parallel to the line of collimation.

8. Explain how to find the difference of level between two points, using the Wye level.

9. The declination of a compass is  $8^{\circ}$  east. The true bearing of a line is N.  $42^{\circ}$  W. Explain how to set out this line with the compass.

10. Explain how to measure a horizontal angle with the transit. A vertical angle.

Geography.

1. Name the States on the left bank of the Mississippi?

2. In traveling from New York City to San Francisco by the S. P. Railway, what roads would you travel over, and through what States and Territories would you pass?

3. What rivers and mountains would you cross in going overland from the City of Mexico to New York?

4. Name the Territories of the United States; give the number of States?

5. What is the capital of the Dominion of Canada, and how could you reach it by water from Duluth?

6. In going from the mouth of the Mississippi to the head of navigation on the Missouri River, what cities would you pass; what States on the left bank of each river?

7. Where is the Orinoco River?

8. What river separates France from Germany? Its direction?

9. What large river flows into the Caspian Sea?

10. What large river flows into the Black Sea?

11. Into what does the Rhone flow?
12. What large islands in the Mediterranean Sea?
13. What large islands north of Scotland?
14. What are zones?
15. What are the zones on the earth's surface, and how are they limited?
16. What are the grand divisions on the earth's surface?
17. What is a sea? Where is the Black Sea?
18. What waters separate the British Isles from the Continent?
19. What is a cape? Where are capes Sable and St. Roque?
20. What cape lies at the southern extremity of South America?
21. What is an isthmus? What isthmus connects Asia and Africa?
22. What river separates Kentucky from Ohio?
23. How do you go by water from Chicago to New York City?
24. Bound the United States and North America.
25. Give the capitals of each State and Territory.
26. State the prominent capes on the Atlantic coast of the U. S. On the Pacific Coast.
27. State likewise the bays and gulfs.
28. State likewise the peninsulas.
29. Where is Cape Guardafui? Northeast? Verde?
30. Where is the river Nile? Rhine? Volga?
31. Where is Madagascar? Borneo? Iceland?
32. What seas north of Europe? South?
33. Name the principal rivers flowing into the Mississippi river from the east. From the west.

84 A Manual for Aspirants for Commissions

34. What are the principal mountains east of the Mississippi River?

35. What is a strait? Where are the Straits of Mackinac?

36. Bound the following States, and name and locate their capitals: Arkansas; California; Georgia; New Hampshire; Tennessee.

37. How do you go from Omaha to Pittsburg by water, and what States do you pass on both sides?

38. What large river in Africa? Its course?

39. Name and locate the Great Deserts.

History.

1. Who was Alexander the Great? When did he live? Who succeeded him?

2. Mention six names famous in Greek history. Six in Roman history.

3. Between what nations were the Punic wars fought?

4. When did the Roman Empire begin? Who was the first Roman emperor?

5. For what was the "Augustan Age" specially famous?

6. Who was Justinian, and for what was he specially famous?

7. Who was Charles the Great? Who succeeded him? In what year?

8. What were the Crusades? Give object and result of the Crusades?

9. Who were (1) Frederick the Great; (2) Peter the Great; (3) Alfred the Great? Give dates of death of each one.

10. Mention five of the battles in which Napoleon Bonaparte figured.

11. Who succeeded Napoleon Bonaparte as ruler of the French?
12. What are the forms of the present governments of Europe?
13. When was the mainland of North America discovered? Where?
14. Where and when was the first English colony in America settled?
15. Mention six battles of the Revolutionary War. Give dates and generals commanding the opposing armies.
16. What was the leading cause of the War of 1812?
17. What was the Missouri Compromise?
18. What American city was captured and burned in the War of 1812?
19. What State first passed an ordinance of secession?
20. How and when did the U. S. acquire Louisiana?
21. Name the leading three battles of the Mexican War. Name the opposing commanders.
22. What officers (naval and military) were chiefly concerned in the capture of Fort Fisher?
23. When was battle of New Orleans fought? With whom was the United States at war at the time?
24. What was Braddock's expedition?
25. Name one great naval battle in each war in which the United States has been engaged.

Constitutional Law.

1. What officers of the Government constitute the Cabinet?
2. Name the different executive departments of the Government.
3. With what general duties is the Secretary of War charged?

86 A Manual for Aspirants for Commissions

4. What agents are employed to represent the United States in other countries?
5. Mention some of the duties with which consuls are charged.
6. How may a foreign subject become a citizen of the United States?
7. How many States comprise the present Union, and how may new States be admitted?
8. By whom and for what purpose was the Constitution adopted?
9. What is the supreme law of the land in the United States?
10. How does a bill become a law?
11. How can money be drawn from the Treasury?
12. What civil and religious freedom is secured to the people?
13. When can the United States protect a State against domestic violence?
14. What constitutes treason against the United States?
15. What were the principal defects of the Articles of Confederation?

International Law.

1. Define international law. How are questions of international law decided?
2. What is a sovereign state?
3. What is a treaty?
4. Name the different modes of terminating disputes between independent states.
5. What is war? Name a just cause of war.
6. By whom is war declared in the United States?

7. Who are combatants? Non-combatants? Spies? Guerrillas? Partizans?

APPENDIX E.

THE ARMY REORGANIZATION BILL.

(PUBLIC—No. 30.)

An Act to increase the efficiency of the permanent military establishment of the United States.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the approval of this Act the Army of the United States, including the existing organizations, shall consist of fifteen regiments of cavalry, a Corps of Artillery, thirty regiments of infantry, one lieutenant-general, six major-generals, fifteen brigadier-generals, an Adjutant-General's Department, an Inspector-General's Department, a Judge-Advocate-General's Department, a Quartermaster's Department, a Subsistence Department, a Medical Department, a Pay Department, a Corps of Engineers, an Ordnance Department, a Signal Corps, the officers of the Record and Pension Office, the chaplains, the officers and enlisted men of the Army on the retired list, the professors, corps of cadets, the army detachments and band at the United States Military Academy, Indian scouts as now authorized by law, and such other officers and enlisted men as may hereinafter be provided for: Provided, That when a vacancy shall occur through death, retirement, or other separation from active service in the office of storekeeper, now provided for by law in the Quartermaster's Department and Ordnance Department, respectively, said office shall cease to exist.

SEC. 2 That each regiment of cavalry shall consist of one colonel, one lieutenant-colonel, three majors, fifteen captains, fifteen first lieutenants, and fifteen second lieutenants; two veterinarians, one sergeant-major, one quartermaster-sergeant, one commissary-sergeant, three squadron sergeants-major, two color-sergeants with rank, pay, and allowances of squadron sergeant-major, one band, and twelve troops organized into three squadrons of four troops each. Of the officers herein provided, the captains and lieutenants not required for duty with the troops shall be available for detail as regimental and squadron staff officers and such other details as may be authorized by law or regulations. Squadron adjutants shall receive one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum and the allowances of first lieutenants; squadron quartermasters and commissaries shall receive one thousand six hundred dollars per annum and the allowances of second lieutenants. Each cavalry band shall be organized as now provided by law. Each troop of cavalry shall consist of one captain, one first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, one first sergeant, one quartermaster-sergeant, six sergeants, six corporals, two cooks, two farriers and blacksmiths, one saddler, one wagoner, two trumpeters, and forty-three privates; the commissioned officers to be assigned from among those hereinbefore authorized: Provided, That the President, in his discretion, may increase the number of corporals in any troop of cavalry to eight, and the number of privates to seventy-six, but the total number of enlisted men authorized for the whole Army shall not at any time be exceeded.

SEC. 3. That the regimental organization of the artillery arm of the United States Army is hereby discontinued, and that arm is constituted and designated as the Artillery Corps. It shall be organized as hereinafter specified and shall belong to the line of the Army.

SEC. 4. That the Artillery Corps shall comprise two branches—the coast artillery and the field artillery. The coast artillery is defined as that portion charged with the care and use of the fixed and movable elements of land and coast fortifications, including the submarine mine and torpedo defenses; and the field artillery as that portion accompanying an army in the field, and including field and light artillery proper, horse artillery, siege artillery, mountain artillery, and also machine-gun batteries: Provided, That this shall not be construed to limit the authority of the Secretary of War to order coast artillery to any duty which the public service demands or to prevent the use of machine or other field guns by any other arm of the service under the direction of the Secretary of War.

SEC. 5. That all officers of artillery shall be placed on one list, in respect to promotion, according to seniority in their several grades, and shall be assigned to coast or to field artillery according to their special aptitude for the respective services.

SEC. 6. That the Artillery Corps shall consist of a Chief of Artillery, who shall be selected and detailed by the President from the colonels of artillery, to serve on the staff of the general officer commanding the Army, and whose duties shall be prescribed by the Secretary of War; fourteen colonels, one of whom shall be the Chief of Artillery; thirteen lieutenant-colonels, thirty-nine majors, one hundred and ninety-five captains, one hundred and ninety-five first lieutenants, one hundred and ninety-five second lieutenants; and the captains and lieutenants provided for in this section not required for duty with batteries or companies shall be available for duty as staff officers of the various artillery garrisons and such other details as may be authorized by law and regulations; twenty-one sergeants-major with the rank, pay, and allowances of regimental sergeants-major of infantry; twenty-seven sergeants-major with the rank, pay, and allowances of battalion sergeants-major of infantry; one electrician sergeant to each coast artillery post having electrical appliances; thirty batteries of field artillery, one hundred and twenty-six batteries of coast artillery, and ten bands organized as now authorized by law for artillery regiments: Provided, That the aggregate number of enlisted men for the artillery, as provided under this Act, shall not exceed eighteen thousand nine hundred and twenty, exclusive of electrician sergeants.

SEC. 7. That each company of coast artillery shall be organized as is now prescribed by law for a battery of artillery: Provided, That the enlisted strength of any company may be fixed, under the direction of the Secretary of War, according to the requirements of the service to which it may be assigned: And Provided, That first-class gunners shall receive two dollars a month, and second-class gunners one dollar per month, in addition to their pay.

SEC. 8. That each battery of field artillery shall be organized as is now prescribed by law, and the enlisted strength thereof shall be fixed under the direction of the Secretary of War.

SEC. 9. That the increase herein provided for the artillery shall be made as follows: Not less than twenty per centum before July first, nineteen hundred and one, and not less than twenty per centum each succeeding twelve months until the total number provided for shall have been attained. All vacancies created or caused by this Act shall be filled by promotion according to seniority in the artillery arm. Second lieutenants of infantry or cavalry may, in the discretion of the President, be transferred to the artillery arm, taking rank therein according to date of commission, and such transfers shall be subject to approval by a board of artillery officers appointed to pass upon the capacity of such officers for artillery service: Provided, That the increase of officers of artillery shall be only in proportion to the increase of men.

SEC. 10. That each regiment of infantry shall consist of one colonel, one lieutenant-colonel, three majors, fifteen captains, fifteen first lieutenants, and fifteen second lieutenants; one sergeant-major, one quartermaster-sergeant, one commissary-sergeant, three battalion sergeants-major, two color sergeants with rank, pay, and allowances of battalion sergeants-major, one band, and twelve companies, organized into three battalions of four companies each. Of the officers herein provided, the captains and lieutenants not required for duty with the companies shall be available for detail as regimental and battalion staff officers and such other details as may be authorized by law or regulations. Battalion adjutants shall receive one thousand and eight hundred dollars per annum and the allowances of first lieutenants, mounted; battalion quartermasters and commissaries shall receive one thousand six hundred dollars per annum and the allowances of second lieutenants, mounted. Each infantry band shall be organized as now provided by law. Each infantry company shall consist of one captain, one first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, one first sergeant, one quartermaster-sergeant, four sergeants, six corporals, two cooks, two musicians, one artificer, and forty-eight privates, the commissioned officers to be assigned from those hereinbefore authorized: Provided, That the President, in his discretion, may increase the number of sergeants in any company of infantry to six, the number of corporals to ten, and the number of privates to one hundred and twenty-seven, but the total number of enlisted men authorized for the whole Army shall not, at any time, be exceeded.

SEC. 11. That the enlisted force of the Corps of Engineers shall consist of one band and three battalions of engineers. The engineers band shall be organized as now provided by law for bands of infantry regiments. Each battalion of engineers shall consist of one sergeant-major, one quartermaster-sergeant, and four companies. Each company of engineers shall consist of one first sergeant, one quartermaster-sergeant with the rank, pay, and allowances of sergeant, eight sergeants, two corporals, two musicians, two cooks, thirty-eight first-class and thirty-eight second-class privates: Provided, That the President may, in his discretion, increase the number of sergeants in any company of engineers to twelve, the number of corporals to eighteen, the number of first-class privates to sixty-four, and the number of second-class privates to sixty-four, but the total number of enlisted men authorized for the whole Army shall not, at any time, be exceeded: And provided, That officers detailed from the Corps of Engineers to serve as battalion adjutants and battalion quartermasters and commissaries shall, while so serving, receive the pay and allowances herein authorized for battalion staff officers of infantry regiments.

SEC. 12. That the President is authorized to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, chaplains of the Army, at the rate of one for each regiment of cavalry and infantry in the United States service and twelve for the Corps of Artillery, with the rank, pay, and allowances of captains of infantry: Provided, that no person shall be appointed a chaplain in the Regular Army who shall have passed the age of forty years, nor until he shall have established his fitness as required by existing law: And provided, That the office of post chaplain is abolished, and the officers now holding commissions as chaplains, or who may hereafter be appointed chaplains, shall be assigned to regiments or to the corps of artillery. Chaplains may be assigned to such stations as the Secretary of War shall direct, and they may be transferred, as chaplains, from one branch of the service or from one regiment to another by the Secretary of War, without further commission. When serving in the field, chaplains shall be furnished with necessary means of transportation by the Quartermaster's Department.

SEC. 13. That the Adjutant-General's Department shall consist of one Adjutant-General with the rank of major-general, and when a vacancy shall occur in the office of Adjutant-General on the expiration of the service of the present incumbent, by retirement or otherwise, the Adjutant-General shall thereafter have the rank and pay of a brigadier-general; five assistant adjutants-general with the rank of colonel, seven assistant adjutants-general with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and fifteen assistant adjutants-general with the rank of major: Provided, That all vacancies created or caused by this section shall, as far as possible, be filled by promotion according to seniority of officers of the Adjutant-General's Department.

SEC. 14. That the Inspector-General's Department shall consist of one Inspector-General with the rank of brigadier-general, four inspectors-general with the rank of colonel, four inspectors-general with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and eight inspectors-general with the rank of major: Provided, That all vacancies created or caused by this section shall be filled, as far as possible, by promotion according to seniority of officers of the Inspector-General's Department.

SEC. 15. That the Judge-Advocate-General's Department shall consist of one Judge-Advocate-General with the rank of brigadier-general, two judge-advocates with the rank of colonel, three judge-advocates with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, six judge-advocates with the rank of major, and for each geographical department or tactical division of troops not provided with a judge-advocate from the list of officers holding permanent commissions in the Judge-Advocate-General's Department one acting judge-advocate with the rank, pay, and allowances of captain, mounted. Promotions to vacancies above the grade of major, created or caused by this Act, shall be made, according to seniority, from officers now holding commission in the Judge-Advocate-General's Department. Vacancies created or caused by this Act in the grade of major may be filled by appointment of officers holding commissions as judge-advocate of volunteers since April twenty-first, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight. Vacancies which may occur thereafter in the grade of major in the Judge-Advocate-General's Department shall be filled by the appointment of officers of the line, or of persons who have satisfactorily served as judge-advocates of volunteers since April twenty-first, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, or of persons from civil life who at date of appointment are not over thirty-five years of age and who shall pass a satisfactory examination to be prescribed by the Secretary of War.

Acting judge-advocates provided for herein shall be detailed from officers of the grades of captain or first lieutenant of the line of the Army who while so serving shall continue to hold their commissions in the arm of the service to which they permanently belong. Upon completion of a tour of duty not exceeding four years they shall be returned to the arm in which commissioned, and shall not be again detailed until they shall have completed two years' duty with the arm of the service in which commissioned.

SEC. 16. That the Quartermaster's Department shall consist of one Quartermaster-General with the rank of brigadier-general, six assistant quartermasters-general with the rank of colonel, nine deputy quartermasters-general with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, twenty quartermasters with the rank of major, sixty quartermasters with the rank of captain, mounted; the military storekeeper now provided for by law, and one hundred and fifty post quartermaster-sergeants: Provided, That all vacancies in the grade of colonel, lieutenant-colonel, and major created or caused by this section shall be filled by promotion according to seniority, as now prescribed by law. That to fill original vacancies in the grade of captain created by this Act in the Quartermaster's Department the President is authorized to appoint officers of volunteers commissioned in the Quartermaster's Department since April twenty-first, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight: Provided further, That the President is authorized to continue in service, during the present emergency, for duty in the Philippine Islands and on transports, twenty-four captains and assistant quartermasters of volunteers. This authority shall extend only for the period when their services shall be absolutely necessary.

SEC. 17. That the Subsistence Department shall consist of one Commissary-General with the rank of brigadier-general, three assistant commissaries-general with the rank of colonel, four deputy commissaries-general with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, nine commissaries with the rank of major, twenty-seven commissaries with the rank of captain, mounted, and the number of commissary-sergeants now authorized by law, who shall hereafter be known as post commissary-sergeants: Provided, That all vacancies in the grades of colonel, lieutenant-colonel, and major created or caused by this section shall be filled by promotion according to seniority, as now prescribed by law. That to fill original vacancies in the grade of captain, created by this Act, in the Subsistence Department, the President is authorized to appoint officers of volunteers commissioned in the Subsistence Department since April twenty-first, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight.

SEC. 18. That the Medical Department shall consist of one Surgeon-General with the rank of brigadier-general, eight assistant surgeons-general with the rank of colonel, twelve deputy surgeons-general with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, sixty surgeons with the rank of major, two hundred and forty assistant surgeons with the rank of captain or first lieutenant, the Hospital Corps, as now authorized by law, and the Nurse Corps: Provided, That all vacancies in the grades of colonel, lieutenant-colonel, and major created or caused by this section shall be filled by promotion according to seniority, subject to the examination now prescribed by law: And provided, That the period during which any assistant surgeon shall have served as a surgeon or assistant surgeon in the Volunteer Army during the war with Spain or since shall be counted as a portion of the five years' service required to entitle him to rank of captain: And provided also, That nothing in this section shall affect the relative rank for promotion of any assistant surgeon now in the service, or who may be hereafter appointed therein, as determined by the date of his appointment or commission and as fixed in accordance with existing law and regulations: Provided further, That in emergencies the Surgeon-General of the Army, with the approval of the Secretary of War, may appoint as many contract surgeons as may be necessary, at a compensation not to exceed one hundred and fifty dollars per month. That on or after the passage of this Act the President may appoint for duty in the Philippine Islands, fifty surgeons of volunteers with the rank and pay of major, and one hundred and fifty assistant surgeons of volunteers with the rank and pay of captain, mounted, for a period of two years: Provided, That so many of these volunteer medical officers as are not required shall be honorably discharged from the service whenever in the opinion of the Secretary of War their services are no longer necessary: Provided further, That assistant surgeons in the Volunteer Army of the United States commissioned by the President as captains, in accordance with the provisions of an Act for increasing the efficiency of the Army of the United States, and for other purposes, approved March second, eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, shall be entitled to the pay of a captain, mounted, from the date of their acceptance of such commission, as prescribed by law: Provided, That the Surgeon-General of the Army, with the approval of the Secretary of War, be, and he is hereby, authorized to employ dental surgeons to serve the officers and enlisted men of the Regular and Volunteer Army. In the proportion of not to exceed one for every one thousand of said Army, and not exceeding thirty in all. Said dental surgeons shall be employed as contract dental surgeons under the terms and conditions applicable to army contract surgeons, and shall be graduates of standard medical or dental colleges, trained in the several branches of dentistry, of good moral and professional character, and shall pass a satisfactory professional examination: Provided, That three of the number of dental surgeons to be employed shall be first appointed by the Surgeon-General, with the approval of the Secretary of War, with reference to their fitness for assignment, under the direction of the Surgeon-General to the special service of conducting the examinations and supervising the operations of the others; and for such special service an extra compensation of sixty dollars a month will be allowed: Provided further, That dental college graduates now employed in the Hospital Corps who have been detailed for a period of not less than twelve months to render dental service to the Army, and who are shown by the reports of their superior officers to have rendered such service satisfactorily, may be appointed contract dental surgeons without examination: Provided, That the Secretary of War be authorized to appoint in the Hospital Corps, in addition to the two hundred hospital stewards now allowed by law, one hundred hospital stewards: Provided, That men who have served as hospital stewards of volunteer regiments or acted in that capacity during and since the Spanish-American war for more than six months may be appointed hospital stewards in the Regular Army: And provided further, That all men so appointed shall be of good moral character and shall have passed a satisfactory mental and physical examination.

SEC. 19. That the Nurse Corps (female) shall consist of one Superintendent, to be appointed by the Secretary of War, who shall be a graduate of a hospital training school having a course of instruction of not less than two years, whose term of office may be terminated at his discretion, whose compensation shall be one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and of as many chief nurses, nurses, and reserve nurses as may be needed. Reserve nurses may be assigned to active duty when the emergency of the service demands, but shall receive no compensation except when on such duty: Provided, That all nurses in the Nurse Corps shall be appointed or removed by the Surgeon-General, with the approval of the Secretary of War; that they shall be graduates of hospital training schools, and shall have passed a satisfactory professional, moral, mental, and physical examination: And provided, That the Superintendent and nurses shall receive transportation and necessary expenses when traveling under orders; that the pay and allowances of nurses, and of reserve nurses, when on active service, shall be forty dollars per month when on duty in the United States and fifty dollars per month when without the limits of the United States. They shall be entitled to quarters, subsistence, and medical attendance during illness, and they may be granted leaves of absence for thirty days, with pay, for each calendar year; and, when serving as chief nurses, their pay may be increased by authority of the Secretary of War, such increase not to exceed twenty-five dollars per month. Payments to the Nurse Corps shall be made by the Pay Department.

SEC. 20. That the grade of veterinarian of the second class in cavalry regiments, United States Army, is hereby abolished, and hereafter the two veterinarians authorized for each cavalry regiment and the one veterinarian authorized for each artillery regiment shall receive the pay and allowances of second lieutenants, mounted. Such number of veterinarians as the Secretary of War may authorize shall be employed to attend animals pertaining to the quartermaster's or other departments not directly connected with the cavalry and artillery regiments, at a compensation not exceeding one hundred dollars per month.

SEC. 21. That the Pay Department shall consist of one Paymaster-General with the rank of brigadier-general, three assistant paymasters-general with the rank of colonel, four deputy paymasters-general with the rank of lieutenant-colonel, twenty paymasters with the rank of major, and twenty-five paymasters with the rank of captain, mounted: Provided, That all vacancies in the grade of colonel and lieutenant-colonel created or caused by this section shall be filled by promotion according to seniority as now prescribed by law, and no more appointments to the grade of major and paymaster shall be made until the number of majors and paymasters is reduced below twenty:

And provided, That persons who have served in the Volunteer Army since April twenty-first, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, as additional paymasters, may be appointed to positions in the grade of captain, created by this section. So long as there remains surplus majors an equal number of vacancies shall be held in the grade of captain, so that the total number of paymasters authorized by this section shall not be exceeded at any time.

SEC. 22. That the Corps of Engineers shall consist of one Chief of Engineers with the rank of brigadier-general, seven colonels, fourteen lieutenant-colonels, twenty-eight majors, forty captains, forty first lieutenants, and thirty second lieutenants. The enlisted force provided in section eleven of this Act and the officers serving therewith shall constitute a part of the line of the Army: Provided, That the Chief of Engineers shall be selected as now provided by law, and hereafter vacancies in the Corps of Engineers in all other grades above that of second lieutenant shall be filled, as far as possible, by promotion according to seniority from the Corps of Engineers: And provided also, That vacancies remaining in the grades of first and second lieutenant may be filled by transfer of officers of the Regular Army, subject to such professional examination as may be approved by the Secretary of War. Vacancies in the grade of second lieutenant not filled by transfer shall be left for future promotions from the corps of cadets at the United States Military Academy.

SEC. 23. That the Ordnance Department shall consist of one Chief of Ordnance with the rank of brigadier-general, four colonels, six lieutenant-colonels, twelve majors, twenty-four captains, and twenty-four first lieutenants, the ordnance storekeeper, and the enlisted men, including ordnance sergeants, as now authorized by law. All vacancies created or caused by this section shall, as far as possible, be filled by promotion according to seniority as now prescribed by law.

SEC. 24. That the Signal Corps shall consist of one Chief Signal Officer with the rank of brigadier-general, one colonel, one lieutenant-colonel, four majors, fourteen captains, fourteen first lieutenants, eighty first-class sergeants, one hundred and twenty sergeants, one hundred and fifty corporals, two hundred and fifty first-class privates, one hundred and fifty second-class privates, and ten cooks: Provided, That vacancies created or caused by this section shall be filled by promotion of officers of the Signal Corps according to seniority, as now provided by law. Vacancies remaining after such promotions may be filled by appointment of persons who have served in the Volunteer Signal Corps since April twenty-first, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight: Provided, That the President is authorized to continue in service during the present emergency, for duty in the Philippine Islands, five volunteer signal officers with the rank of first lieutenant and five volunteer signal officers with the rank of second lieutenant. This authority shall extend only for the period when their services may be absolutely necessary.

SEC. 25. That the officers of the Record and Pension Office of the War Department shall be a chief of said office with the rank of brigadier-general and an assistant chief of said office with the rank of major: Provided, That any person appointed to be Chief of the Record and Pension Office after the passage of this Act shall have the rank of colonel.

SEC. 26. That so long as there remain any officers holding permanent appointments in the Adjutant-General's Department, the Inspector-General's Department, the Quartermaster's Department, the Subsistence Department, the Pay Department, the Ordnance Department, and the Signal Corps, including those appointed to original vacancies in the grades of captain and first lieutenant under the provisions of sections sixteen, seventeen, twenty-one, and twenty-four of this Act, they shall be promoted according to seniority in the several grades, as now provided by law, and nothing herein contained shall be deemed to apply to vacancies which can be filled by such promotions or to the periods for which the officers so promoted shall hold their appointments; and when any vacancy, except that of the chief of the department or corps, shall occur, which cannot be filled by promotion as provided in this section, it shall be filled by detail from the line of the Army, and no more permanent appointments shall be made in those departments or corps after the original vacancies created by this Act shall have been filled. Such details shall be made from the grade in which the vacancies exist, under such system of examination as the President may from time to time prescribe.

All officers so detailed shall serve for a period of four years, at the expiration of which time they shall return to duty with the line, and officers below the rank of lieutenant-colonel shall not again be eligible for selection in any staff department until they shall have served two years with the line.

That when vacancies shall occur in the position of chief of any staff corps or department the President may appoint to such vacancies, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, officers of the Army at large not below the rank of lieutenant-colonel, and who shall hold office for terms of four years. When a vacancy in the position of chief of any staff corps or department is filled by the appointment of an officer below the rank now provided by law for said office, said chief shall, while so serving, have the same rank, pay, and allowances now provided for the chief of such corps or department. And any officer now holding office in any corps or department who shall hereafter serve as chief of a staff corps or department and shall subsequently be retired, shall be retired with the rank, pay, and allowances authorized by law for the retirement of such corps or department chief: Provided, That so long as there remain in service officers of any staff corps or department holding permanent appointments, the chief of such staff corps or department shall be selected from the officers so remaining therein.

SEC. 27. That each position vacated by officers of the line, transferred to any department of the staff for tours of service under this Act, shall be filled by promotion in the line until the total number detailed equals the number authorized for duty in each staff department. Thereafter vacancies caused by details from the line to the staff shall be filled by officers returning from tours of staff duty. If under the operation of this Act the number of officers returned to any particular arm of the service at any time exceeds the number authorized by law in any grade, promotions to that grade shall cease until the number has been reduced to that authorized.

SEC. 28. That vacancies in the grade of field officers and captain, created by this Act, in the cavalry, artillery, and infantry shall be filled by promotion according to seniority in each branch, respectively. Vacancies existing after the promotions have been made shall be provided for as follows: A sufficient number shall be reserved in the grade of second lieutenant for the next graduating class at the United States Military Academy.

Persons not over forty years of age who shall have at any time served as volunteers subsequent to April twenty-first, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, may be ordered before boards of officers for such examination as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War, and those who establish their fitness before these examining boards may be appointed to the grades of first or second lieutenant in the Regular Army, taking rank in the respective grades according to seniority as determined by length of prior commissioned service; but no person appointed under the provisions of this section shall be placed above another in the same grade with longer commissioned service, and nothing herein contained shall change the relative rank of officers heretofore commissioned in the Regular Army.

Enlisted men of the Regular Army or volunteers may be appointed second lieutenants in the Regular Army to vacancies created by this Act, provided that they shall have served one year, under the same conditions now authorized by law for enlisted men of the Regular Army.

100 A Manual for Aspirants for Commissions

SEC. 29. That to fill vacancies occurring from time to time in the several organizations serving without the limits of the United States with trained men, the President is authorized to enlist recruits in numbers equal to four per centum in excess of the total strength authorized for such organizations.

SEC. 30. That the President is authorized to maintain the enlisted force of the several organizations of the Army at their maximum strength as fixed by this Act during the present exigencies of the service, or until such time as Congress may hereafter otherwise direct: Provided, That in the event of the enlistment of a soldier in the Army for the period required by law, and after the expiration of one year of service, should either of his parents die, leaving the other solely dependent upon the soldier for support, such soldier may, upon his own application, be honorably discharged from the service of the United States upon due proof being made of such condition to the Secretary of War.

SEC. 31. That the Secretary of War is authorized to detach from the Army at large such number of enlisted men as may be necessary to perform duty at the various recruiting stations, and while performing such duty one member of each party shall have the rank, pay, and allowances of sergeant, and one the rank, pay, and allowances of corporal of the arm of the service to which they respectively belong.

SEC. 32. That when the exigencies of the service of any officer who would be entitled to promotion upon examination require him to remain absent from any place where an examining board could be convened, the President is hereby authorized to promote such officer subject to examination, and the examination shall take place as soon thereafter as practicable. If upon examination the officer be found disqualified for promotion, he shall, upon the approval of the proceedings by the Secretary of War, be treated in the same manner as if he had been examined prior to promotion.

SEC. 33. The President of the United States is hereby authorized to select from the brigadier-generals of volunteers two volunteer officers, without regard to age, and, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, appoint them brigadier-generals, United States Army, for the purpose of placing them on the retired list.

And the President is also hereby authorized to select from the retired list of the Army an officer not above the rank of brigadier-general who may have distinguished himself during the war with Spain, in command of a separate army, and to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, the officer so selected to be major-general, United States Army, with the pay and allowances established by law for officers of that grade on the retired list.

SEC. 34. That all officers who have served during the war with Spain, or since, as officers of the Regular or Volunteer Army of the United States, and have been honorably discharged from the service by resignation or otherwise, shall be entitled to bear the official title and, upon occasions of ceremony, to wear the uniform of the highest grade they have held by brevet or other commission in the regular or volunteer service.

SEC. 35. That the Secretary of War be, and he is hereby, authorized and directed to cause preliminary examinations and surveys to be made for the purpose of selecting four sites with the view to the establishment of permanent camp-grounds for instruction of troops of the Regular Army and National Guard, with estimates of the cost of the sites and their equipment with all modern appliances, and for this purpose is authorized to detail such officers of the Army as may be necessary to carry on the preliminary work; and the sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby appropriated for the necessary expense of such work, to be disbursed under the direction of the Secretary of War: Provided, That the Secretary of War shall report to Congress the result of such examination and surveys, and no contract for said sites shall be made nor any obligation incurred until Congress shall approve such selections and appropriate the money therefor.

SEC. 36. That when, in his opinion, the conditions in the Philippine Islands justify such action, the President is authorized to enlist natives of those islands for service in the Army, to be organized, as scouts, with such officers as he shall deem necessary for their proper control, or as troops or companies, as authorized by this Act, for the Regular Army. The President is further authorized, in his discretion, to form companies, organized as are companies of the Regular Army, in squadrons or battalions, with officers and non-commissioned officers corresponding to similar organizations in the cavalry and infantry arms. The total number of enlisted men in said native organizations shall not exceed twelve thousand, and the total enlisted force of the line of the Army, together with such native force, shall not exceed at any one time one hundred thousand.

The majors to command the squadrons and battalions shall be selected by the President from captains of the line of the Regular Army, and while so serving they shall have the rank, pay, and allowances of the grade of major. The captains of the troops or companies shall be selected by the President from first lieutenants of the line of the Regular Army, and while so serving they shall have the rank, pay, and allowances of captain of the arm to which assigned. The squadron and battalion staff officers, and first and second lieutenants of companies, may be selected from the non-commissioned officers or enlisted men of the Regular Army of not less than two years' service, or from officers or non-commissioned officers or enlisted men serving, or who have served, in the volunteers subsequent to April twenty-first, eighteen hundred and ninety-eight, and officers of those grades shall be given provisional appointments for periods of four years each, and no such appointments shall be continued for a second or subsequent term unless the officer's conduct shall have been satisfactory in every respect. The pay and allowances of provisional officers of native organizations shall be those authorized for officers of like grades in the Regular Army. The pay, rations, and clothing allowances to be authorized for the enlisted men shall be fixed by the Secretary of War, and shall not exceed those authorized for the Regular Army.

When, in the opinion of the President, natives of the Philippine Islands shall, by their services and character, show fitness for command, the President is authorized to make provisional appointments to the grades of second and first lieutenants from such natives, who, when so appointed, shall have the pay and allowances to be fixed by the Secretary of War, not exceeding those of corresponding grades of the Regular Army.

SEC. 37. That the President is authorized to organize and maintain one provisional regiment of not exceeding three battalions of infantry, for service in Porto Rico, the enlisted strength thereof to be composed of natives of that island as far as practicable. The regiment shall be organized as to numbers as authorized for infantry regiments of the Regular Army. The pay, rations, and clothing allowances to be authorized for the enlisted men shall be fixed by the Secretary of War, and shall not exceed those authorized for the Regular Army. The field officers shall be selected from officers of the next lower grades in the Regular Army, and shall, while so serving in the higher grade, have the rank, pay, and allowances thereof. The company and regimental and battalion staff officers shall be appointed by the President. The President may, in his discretion, continue with their own consent the volunteer officers and enlisted men of the Porto Rico regiment, whose terms of service expire by law July first, nineteen hundred and one. Enlistments for the Porto Rico regiment shall be made for periods of three years, unless sooner discharged. The regiment shall be continued in service until further directed by Congress.

102     A Manual for Aspirants for Commissions

SEC. 38. The sale of or dealing in beer, wine or any intoxicating liquors by any person in any post exchange or canteen or army transport or upon any premises used for military purposes in the United States is hereby prohibited. The Secretary of War is hereby directed to carry the provisions of this section into full force and effect.

SEC. 39. That nothing in this Act shall be held or construed so as to discharge any officer from the Regular Army or to deprive him of the commission which he now holds therein.

SEC. 40. That the President be, and he is hereby, authorized to prescribe the kinds and quantities of the component articles of the army ration, and to direct the issue of substitutive equivalent articles in place of any such components whenever, in his opinion, economy and a due regard to the health and comfort of the troops may so require.

SEC. 41. That the distinctive badges adopted by military societies of men "who served in the armies and navies of the United States during the Spanish-American war and the incident insurrection in the Philippines" may be worn upon all occasions of ceremony by officers and men of the Army and Navy of the United States who are members of said organizations in their own right.

SEC. 42. That all laws and parts of laws inconsistent with the provisions of this Act be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

Approved February 2, 1901.
